ETHICS IN JUVENILE CASES FROM A PROSECUTOR'S POINT OF VIEW

1. Special Provision for Prosecutors

“It shall be the primary duty of all prosecuting attorneys, including any special prosecutors, not to convict, but to see that justice is done.” Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, Art. 2.01.

Although all attorneys are covered under the Texas Disciplinary Rules of Professional Conduct, only ONE group of attorneys is singled out for disciplinary rules specific to that group: Prosecuting Attorneys. As is pointed out in Comment 1 to Rule 3.09, “A prosecutor has the responsibility to see that justice is done, and not simply to be an advocate. This responsibility carries with it a number of specific obligations.”

Rule 3.09 of the Texas Disciplinary Rules of Professional Conduct is entitled “SPECIAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF A PROSECUTOR” and requires that a prosecutor “shall” do the following:

- (a) refrain from prosecuting or threatening to prosecute a charge that the prosecutor knows is not supported by probable cause;
- (b) refrain from conducting or assisting in a custodial interrogation of an accused unless the prosecutor has made reasonable efforts to be assured that the accused has been advised of any right to, and the procedure for obtaining, counsel and has been given reasonable opportunity to obtain counsel;
- (c) not to initiate or encourage efforts to obtain from an unrepresented accused a waiver of important pretrial, trial, or post-trial rights;
- (d) make timely disclosure to the defense of all evidence or information known to the prosecutor that tends to negate the guilt of the accused or mitigates the offense, and in connection with sentencing, disclose to the defense and to the tribunal all unprivileged mitigating information known to the prosecutor, except when a prosecutor is relieved of this responsibility by a protective order of the tribunal; and

- (e) exercise reasonable care to prevent persons employed or controlled by the prosecutor in a criminal case from making an extrajudicial statement that the prosecutor would be prohibited from making under rule 3.07.

2. Duties and Responsibilities of Juvenile Prosecutors

The adversarial model contemplated by the rules pits the defense attorney against the prosecuting attorney, with both of the attorneys governed by the rules of court and the disciplinary rules. While the new rules also represent an effort to discourage abusive adversarial tactics, the adversarial model continues to be firmly established in the juvenile court as well as the other courts. This model is somewhat at odds with the historical context and purpose of the juvenile court, which had been created as a court separate from adult court with the ideals of “rehabilitation” of the juvenile and “protection” of the public as worthy goals. (See the purpose as set out in Sec 51.01 of the Family Code). In this “ideal” juvenile court, all parties, the state, the judge, the parents, the juvenile social worker, and everyone in the process are presumed to have the same goal and interest in the child’s welfare.

The nature of the “defendant” juvenile is such that our law has recognized certain protections and privileges that are not accorded to adult defendants. Thus, the lawyers, defense as well as prosecution, are required to be aware of these special protections and apply them in the context of the other rules and procedures. A few of these protections (you can probably think of others) are:

- (a) Confidentiality of the records. Sec. 58.005 of the Family Code limits who may be permitted to access and inspect juvenile court records. Also Sec. 58.007 limits access to the records and files concerning juveniles. This covers prosecutor’s files, as well as probation department files and law enforcement records and provides that they shall not be disclosed to the public.
- (b) The court can limit public access to hearings. Sec. 54.08 provides that for “good cause shown” the public can be excluded from a juvenile court hearing and requires closed hearings for juveniles under 14.
- (c) Limitations on who can collect and keep information regarding juveniles, and what they can do with the information. Family Code Chapter 58.

- (d) While not exempted from registration as a Sexual Offender, juveniles have some special provisions regarding the circumstances of their registration (deferred decision until counseling completed and then alternatives where the court can excuse registration, order non-public registration or after registration is ordered, allow un-registration or de-registration). Also there are some protections as to who has access to the information provided when the juvenile is registered. (See Chapter 62 and Subchapters G and H of the Code of Criminal Procedure).

Prosecutors need to be aware of not only the Rules of Court and the Disciplinary Rules, but the specific provisions in the Texas Family Code that govern their dealings with the various parties and persons involved with the juvenile case. These rules and provisions affect not only the prosecutor's dealing with the defense attorney and the judge, but also with the parents (who are "parties"), law enforcement, probation, the schools, victims and even jurors!

3. Ethical Problems Confronted by Prosecutors

Here is a "top ten" list of disciplinary rules situations that are raised with respect to prosecutors. Usually either the prosecutor has been accused of violating the rule, or the prosecutor finds him/herself in a situation where they wonder if their conduct would constitute a violation:

- (1) Suppression of exculpatory evidence. See Rule 3.09(d), Texas Disciplinary Rules of Professional Conduct; Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). Note that "mitigating" evidence must be disclosed as well. The evidence need not establish innocence to be "exculpatory."
- (2) Improper statement to the press. See Rule 3.07. This includes public criticism of judges controlled by Rule 8.02. Prosecutors enjoy "prosecutorial immunity" for statements made in the courtroom (Marrero v. City of Hialeah, 625 F. 2d 499(5th Cir. 1980) cert. denied 450 U.S. 913 (1981), but only "qualified immunity" for other public statements within the scope of their duties (see Marrero (supra); Wyse v. Dept. of Public Safety, 733 S.W. 2d (Tex. App-Waco, 1986, writ ref. N.R.E.). There is

NO immunity for statements not within the scope of duties, and none for incorrect out-of-court statements motivated by bad faith or malice. (see Wyse , supra.). If your juvenile case is open to the public, it is always a good idea to urge the media to come and hear the case for themselves as testimony is presented in the courtroom.

- (3) Ex parte communication with the trial court . Rule 3.05(b); and Canons 3(A)(5) and 8(K), Code of Judicial Conduct.
- (4) Prosecuting or threatening to prosecute a case unsupported by probable cause. Rule 3.09(a)
- (5) Knowing use of false evidence. Rule 3.03(5)
- (6) Communications with a party represented by counsel concerning the subject of that representation. Rule 4.02(a). In juvenile cases, “parents, spouses, guardians, and guardians-ad-litem” are “parties” under the definition in Sec. 51.02(10). Keep this in mind when the parents call you and want to discuss the case.
- (7) False statements of material fact. Rules 3.03 (concerning statements made to the court) and 4.01(a) (statements made to anyone else).
- (8) Threats of criminal prosecution or grievance proceeding intended to influence or discourage a person’s service as a witness. Rule 4.04
- (9) Comments made to harass, or “embarrass” or influence the future jury service of a juror who has made the “wrong” decision. Rule 3.06(d).
- (10) Being so eager to “win” or so angry because you didn’t that that you allow your judgment to fail and you lose sight of “seeing that justice is done” and done properly.

4. Ethical Problems Special to Juvenile Prosecutors

These hypotheticals are intended for discussion. Every single one of these situations has happened to me. Be warned, some of these answers are strictly my own opinion, and another prosecutor might see things differently:

Hypothetical #1: Filing and Disposing of a Case:

- (1) You are doing intake on an assault case. You know that the victim is now deceased and their death was unrelated to the offense. Do you file the case?
No, I believe it would be unethical to file a case that you know that you cannot make. See Rule 3.09

- (2) Along the same lines, the case is filed, but an element of the offense is missing. For example, in a DWI (or UUMV), you cannot prove the juvenile was operating the vehicle. Do you try to get them to stipulate anyway?
Maybe, it might depend on the circumstances.

- (3) Would you offer deferred prosecution instead?
If the juvenile is “not guilty” he shouldn’t be on “deferred prosecution”. In addition, even if you have the proper evidence and probable cause to file a DWI, “deferred prosecution” on a DWI is prohibited by the Family Code Sec. 53.03(g)(1).

Hypothetical #2: Advising the Victim/Witness about talking to the other side:

- (1) You are talking to the victim in a case and she tells you the defense attorney has been calling her. She asks whether or not she should talk with the defense attorney or his investigator. What do you tell her?

I would tell her that it was up to her whether she talked to the lawyer or the investigator, and that I could not tell her not to talk to them. However, I would caution her that they would probably record in some way what she said and if she were to testify differently they would ask about it. I would also caution and urge her to be truthful at all times if she did talk to them.

Relevant Rules: 3.04 and 4.03 of the Rules of Professional Conduct

Hypothetical #3: Dealing with the Weak case and/or the Ignorant Defense Attorney:

- (1) You are assigned to prosecute a very weak case – though not so weak that a dismissal is warranted. You know in your mind that if the defense attorney approaches you with a request for a reduction in the charge or a request for a deferred prosecution, you would agree to it. The defense lawyer never bothers to look at your file and never even talks to you about the case. Are you required to tell the defense lawyer about weaknesses in the case?

No, I don't think you are. Besides, his client may have told him what happened and admitted guilt – including facts that you don't even know about.

- (2) Are you obligated to offer a reduction or tell the lawyer about the availability of deferred?

No, I don't believe the prosecutor is obligated to try to talk the lawyer into a reduction of some sort. If you honestly believe that the reduction was warranted, then refile the case with the offense and pleadings that you believe are proper.

I once tried to tell a lawyer about deferred and urged him to consider it, and he ended up writing me a letter threatening to file a grievance on me, because he took it as though I was saying he didn't know what he was doing. Sometimes lawyers won't listen to prosecutors.

- (3) With the above in mind, what if you find yourself dealing with an attorney who normally does not practice juvenile law and it is obvious he doesn't know what he is doing – what is your obligation? What do you do?

- i. Help him by instructing him on the law?
- ii. Just tell him what to do?
- iii. Take advantage of him?

What if he admits he doesn't know what he is doing and asks for your help? How much are you obligated to keep him from doing something totally wrong?

Whatever you do, I believe that a prosecutor has a moral duty and a self interest (when the case gets reversed, you have to do it over again!) in keeping a lawyer from doing something totally wrong. When this has happened to me in the past, I have directed lawyers to particular sections of the law. I have tried to explain the law, as I understood it and, on some occasions, I have suggested that the lawyer might want to discuss his options with one of the juvenile attorneys and directed him to one or more of them.

SUBTOPIC : DOES THE LAWYER KNOW WHAT HE'S DOING? These dilemmas actually happened to me:

1. You ask for your file back and the lawyer tells you his client "isn't finished reading it."
2. The lawyer takes your file to the clerk of the court and talks the clerk into making him a copy of YOUR file.
3. You ask for your file back, and the lawyer says "I don't know where it is" as he walks out of court with his reset form. (You know for certain that you gave it to him).

Look at Rule 3.03, 3.09 and 4.01 of the Rules of Professional Conduct and Article 2.01 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Hypothetical #4: Who represents Who?:

What happens when several of the "parties" have lawyers and you – the prosecutor – are caught in the conflict?

1. Child and parent each have a lawyer and they each want something different.

2. One – or both – parents come to court with their lawyer to make sure that the juvenile isn't sent home to them!
3. The parents are obviously going to try to use the juvenile case to somehow further or change their ongoing custody battle.
4. The parents come in and file their own pleadings in the case asking that their parental rights be terminated and the child be placed in the custody of the state. (They want to be sure the child knows he can never come home again!)

Look at Rules 4.02 and 4.03. Also Sec. 51.02(10) in the Family Code.

Hypothetical #5: Dealing with the difficult Complainant/Witness:

1. The victim gets up to testify and tells a completely different story. Surprise!!
2. You become aware, prior to any hearing, that the victim/witness is not credible.
 - a. You KNOW he's lying or planning to lie
 - b. You SUSPECT he's lying or planning to lie
 - c. Other variations – he's got his friends, or worse, his gang members to lie for him
3. The victim from Hell:
 - a. The family member victim who, after letting the kid sit in detention for a month awaiting trial, wants to drop the charges, says the police are lying, and/or refuses to come to court.
 - b. The Victim who only filed to get money. This victim suddenly remembers that the briefcase that was taken from his vehicle contained his diamond Rolex watch, $10,000.00 in cash, and a very expensive camera. He just forgot to tell the police about those items. He also tells the juvenile's family that he will "drop" the charges if they pay him.
 - c. The Victim who is so upset and angry that he will NOT be happy no matter what you – the prosecutor - do. You could get the "death penalty" and an 8-million dollar settlement and he still wouldn't be OK.

Look at Rules 3.03, 3.04, 3.09, and 4.01.

Hypothetical #6: Do you have a duty to disclose?

1. The case is set for a plea and you learn that your Victim/Witness
 - a. Is Dead
 - b. Has left the country
 - c. Has a terrible criminal history
 - d. Can't be located

What is your obligation as far as notifying the defense attorney?
The court?

See Rule 3.03, 3.04 and 3.09.

Hypothetical #7: What do you do when you find out that your Victim/Witness has been “messed with”?

1. By the defense attorney:
 - a. The attorney told the Victim/Witness he was appointed by the court to “investigate” the offense. He just didn't tell him he represented the juvenile. See Rule 4.01 and 4.03
 - b. The attorney told the Victim/Witness not to come because the juvenile was going to plead guilty and then he announces “ready” for trial. See Rule 4.01
2. By the juvenile defendant.
3. By the juvenile defendant's friends. What if the friends are gang members?

Hypothetical #8: Dealing with the nightmare case:

1. The juvenile defendant is Mentally Retarded, Mentally Ill, and Dangerous! (He's also 11 years old and pitiful)
2. The juvenile defendant is someone you REALLY feel sorry for
3. The necessary witness – a police officer -
 - a. Has been fired for professional misconduct unrelated to this case
 - b. Has been killed in the line of duty.

APPENDIX

STATE BAR RULES OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Rule 1.01. Competent and Diligent Representation

(a) A lawyer shall not accept or continue employment in a legal matter which the lawyer knows or should know is beyond the lawyer's competence, unless:

- (1) another lawyer who is competent to handle the matter is, with the prior informed consent of the client, associated in the matter; or
- (2) the advice or assistance of the lawyer is reasonably required in an emergency and the lawyer limits the advice and assistance to that which is reasonably necessary in the circumstances.

(b) In representing a client, a lawyer shall not:

- (1) neglect a legal matter entrusted to the lawyer; or
- (2) frequently fail to carry out completely the obligations that the lawyer owes to a client or clients.

(c) As used in this Rule, "neglect" signifies inattentiveness involving a conscious disregard for the responsibilities owed to a client or clients.

Rule 1.02. Scope and Objectives of Representation

(a) Subject to paragraphs (b), (c), (d), and (e), (f), and (g), a lawyer shall abide by a client's decisions:

- (1) concerning the objectives and general methods of representation;
- (2) whether to accept an offer of settlement of a matter, except as otherwise authorized by law;
- (3) In a criminal case, after consultation with the lawyer, as to a plea to be entered, whether to waive jury trial, and whether the client will testify.

(b) A lawyer may limit the scope, objectives and general methods of the representation if the client consents after consultation.

(c) A lawyer shall not assist or counsel a client to engage in conduct that the lawyer knows is criminal or fraudulent. A lawyer may discuss the legal consequences of any proposed course of conduct with a client and may counsel and represent a client in connection with the making of a good faith effort to determine the validity, scope, meaning or application of the law.

(d) When a lawyer has confidential information clearly establishing that a client is likely to commit a criminal or fraudulent act that is likely to result in substantial injury to the financial interests or property of another, the lawyer shall promptly make reasonable efforts under the circumstances to dissuade the client from committing the crime or fraud.

(e) When a lawyer has confidential information clearly establishing that the lawyer's client has committed a criminal or fraudulent act in the commission of which the lawyer's services have been used, the lawyer shall make reasonable efforts under the circumstances to persuade the client to take corrective action.

(f) When a lawyer knows that a client expects representation not permitted by the rules of professional conduct or other law, the lawyer shall consult with the client regarding the relevant limitations on the lawyer's conduct.

(g) A lawyer shall take reasonable action to secure the appointment of a guardian or other legal representative for, or seek other protective orders with respect to, a client whenever the lawyer reasonably believes that the client lacks legal competence and that such action should be taken to protect the client.

Rule 1.03. Communication

(a) A lawyer shall keep a client reasonably informed about the status of a matter and promptly comply with reasonable requests for information.

(b) A lawyer shall explain a matter to the extent reasonably necessary to permit the client to make informed decisions regarding the representation.

Rule 1.04. Fees

(a) A lawyer shall not enter into an arrangement for, charge, or collect an illegal fee or unconscionable fee. A fee is unconscionable if a competent lawyer could not form a reasonable belief that the fee is reasonable.

(b) Factors that may be considered in determining the reasonableness of a fee include, but not to the exclusion of other relevant factors, the following:

- (1) the time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;
- (2) the likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer;
- (3) the fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;
- (4) the amount involved and the results obtained;
- (5) the time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances;
- (6) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client;
- (7) the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services; and
- (8) whether the fee is fixed or contingent on results obtained or uncertainty of collection before the legal services have been rendered.

(c) When the lawyer has not regularly represented the client, the basis or rate of the fee shall be communicated to the client, preferably in writing, before or within a reasonable time after commencing the representation.

(d) A fee may be contingent on the outcome of the matter for which the service is rendered, except in a matter in which a contingent fee is prohibited by paragraph (e) or other law. A contingent fee agreement shall be in writing and shall state the method by which the fee is to be determined. If there is to be a differentiation in the percentage or percentages that shall accrue to the lawyer in the event of settlement, trial or appeal, the percentage for each shall be stated. The agreement shall state the litigation and other expenses to be deducted from the recovery, and whether such expenses are to be deducted before or after the contingent fee is calculated. Upon conclusion of a contingent fee matter, the lawyer shall provide the client with a written statement describing the outcome of the matter and, if there is a recovery, showing the remittance to the client and the method of its determination.

(e) A lawyer shall not enter into an arrangement for, charge, or collect a contingent fee for representing a defendant in a criminal case.

(f) A division or agreement for division of a fee between lawyers who are not in the same firm shall not be made unless:

(1) the division is:

(i) in proportion to the professional services performed by each lawyer;

(ii) made with a forwarding lawyer; or

(iii) made, by written agreement with the client, with a lawyer who assumes joint responsibility for the representation;

(2) the client is advised of, and does not object to, the participation of all the lawyers involved; and

(3) the aggregate fee does not violate paragraph (a).

(g) Paragraph (f) of this Rule does not prohibit payment to a former partner or associate pursuant to a separation or retirement agreement.

Rule 1.05. Confidentiality of Information

(a) "Confidential information" includes both "privileged information" and "unprivileged client information." "Privileged information" refers to the information of a client protected by the lawyer-client privilege of Rule 503 of the Texas Rules of Evidence or of Rule 503 of the Texas Rules of Criminal Evidence or by the principles of attorney-client privilege governed by Rule 501 of the Federal Rules of Evidence for United States Courts and Magistrates. "Unprivileged client information" means all information relating to a client or furnished by the client, other than privileged information, acquired by the lawyer during the course of or by reason of the representation of the client.

(b) Except as permitted by paragraphs (c) and (d), or as required by paragraphs (e) and (f), a lawyer shall not knowingly:

(1) Reveal confidential information of a client or a former client to:

(i) a person that the client has instructed is not to receive the information; or

(ii) anyone else, other than the client, the client's representatives, or the members, associates, or employees of the lawyer's law firm.

(2) Use confidential information of a client to the disadvantage of the client unless the client consents after consultation.

(3) Use confidential information of a former client to the disadvantage of the former client after the representation is concluded unless the former client consents after consultation or the confidential information has become generally known.

(4) Use privileged information of a client for the advantage of the lawyer or of a third person, unless the client consents after consultation.

(c) A lawyer may reveal confidential information:

- (1) When the lawyer has been expressly authorized to do so in order to carry out the representation.
 - (2) When the client consents after consultation.
 - (3) To the client, the client's representatives, or the members, associates, and employees of the lawyer's firm, except when otherwise instructed by the client.
 - (4) When the lawyer has reason to believe it is necessary to do so in order to comply with a court order, a Texas Disciplinary Rules of Professional Conduct, or other law.
 - (5) To the extent reasonably necessary to enforce a claim or establish a defense on behalf of the lawyer in a controversy between the lawyer and the client.
 - (6) To establish a defense to a criminal charge, civil claim or disciplinary complaint against the lawyer or the lawyer's associates based upon conduct involving the client or the representation of the client.
 - (7) When the lawyer has reason to believe it is necessary to do so in order to prevent the client from committing a criminal or fraudulent act.
 - (8) To the extent revelation reasonably appears necessary to rectify the consequences of a client's criminal or fraudulent act in the commission of which the lawyer's services had been used.
- (d) A lawyer also may reveal unprivileged client information:
- (1) When impliedly authorized to do so in order to carry out the representation.
 - (2) When the lawyer has reason to believe it is necessary to do so in order to:
 - (i) carry out the representation effectively;
 - (ii) defend the lawyer or the lawyer's employees or associates against a claim of wrongful conduct;
 - (iii) respond to allegations in any proceeding concerning the lawyer's representation of the client; or
 - (iv) prove the services rendered to a client, or the reasonable value thereof, or both, in an action against another person or organization responsible for the payment of the fee for services rendered to the client.
- (e) When a lawyer has confidential information clearly establishing that a client is likely to commit a criminal or fraudulent act that is likely to result in death or substantial bodily harm to a person, the lawyer shall reveal confidential information to the extent revelation reasonably appears necessary to prevent the client from committing the criminal or fraudulent act.
- (f) A lawyer shall reveal confidential information when required to do so by Rule 3.03(a)(2), 3.03(b), or by Rule 4.01(b).

Rule 1.06. Conflict of Interest: General Rule

- (a) A lawyer shall not represent opposing parties to the same litigation.
- (b) In other situations and except to the extent permitted by paragraph (c), a lawyer shall not represent a person if the representation of that person:
 - (1) involves a substantially related matter in which that person's interests are materially and directly adverse to the interests of another client of the lawyer or the lawyer's firm; or

(2) reasonably appears to be or become adversely limited by the lawyer's or law firm's responsibilities to another client or to a third person or by the lawyer's or law firm's own interests.

(c) A lawyer may represent a client in the circumstances described in (b) if:

(1) the lawyer reasonably believes the representation of each client will not be materially affected; and

(2) each affected or potentially affected client consents to such representation after full disclosure of the existence, nature, implications, and possible adverse consequences of the common representation and the advantages involved, if any.

(d) A lawyer who has represented multiple parties in a matter shall not thereafter represent any of such parties in a dispute among the parties arising out of the matter, unless prior consent is obtained from all such parties to the dispute.

(e) If a lawyer has accepted representation in violation of this Rule, or if multiple representation properly accepted becomes improper under this Rule, the lawyer shall promptly withdraw from one or more representations to the extent necessary for any remaining representation not to be in violation of these Rules.

(f) If a lawyer would be prohibited by this Rule from engaging in particular conduct, no other lawyer while a member or associated with that lawyer's firm may engage in that conduct.

Rule 1.07. Conflict of Interest: Intermediary

(a) A lawyer shall not act as intermediary between clients unless:

(1) the lawyer consults with each client concerning the implications of the common representation, including the advantages and risks involved, and the effect on the attorney-client privileges, and obtains each client's written consent to the common representation;

(2) the lawyer reasonably believes that the matter can be resolved without the necessity of contested litigation on terms compatible with the clients' best interests, that each client will be able to make adequately informed decisions in the matter and that there is little risk of material prejudice to the interests of any of the clients if the contemplated resolution is unsuccessful; and

(3) the lawyer reasonably believes that the common representation can be undertaken impartially and without improper effect on other responsibilities the lawyer has to any of the clients.

(b) While acting as intermediary, the lawyer shall consult with each client concerning the decision to be made and the considerations relevant in making them, so that each client can make adequately informed decisions.

(c) A lawyer shall withdraw as intermediary if any of the clients so requests, or if any of the conditions stated in paragraph (a) is no longer satisfied. Upon withdrawal, the lawyer shall not continue to represent any of the clients in the matter that was the subject of the intermediation.

(d) Within the meaning of this Rule, a lawyer acts as intermediary if the lawyer represents two or more parties with potentially conflicting interests.

(e) If a lawyer would be prohibited by this Rule from engaging in particular conduct, no other lawyer while a member of or associated with that lawyer's firm may engage in that conduct.

Rule 1.08. Conflict of Interest: Prohibited Transactions

- (a) A lawyer shall not enter into a business transaction with a client unless:
- (1) the transaction and terms on which the lawyer acquires the interest are fair and reasonable to the client and are fully disclosed in a manner which can be reasonably understood by the client;
 - (2) the client is given a reasonable opportunity to seek the advice of independent counsel in the transaction; and
 - (3) the client consents in writing thereto.
- (b) A lawyer shall not prepare an instrument giving the lawyer or a person related to the lawyer as a parent, child, sibling, or spouse any substantial gift from a client, including a testamentary gift, except where the client is related to the donee.
- (c) Prior to the conclusion of all aspects of the matter giving rise to the lawyer's employment, a lawyer shall not make or negotiate an agreement with a client, prospective client, or former client giving the lawyer literary or media rights to a portrayal or account based in substantial part on information relating to the representation.
- (d) A lawyer shall not provide financial assistance to a client in connection with pending or contemplated litigation or administrative proceedings, except that:
- (1) a lawyer may advance or guarantee court costs, expenses of litigation or administrative proceedings, and reasonably necessary medical and living expenses, the repayment of which may be contingent on the outcome of the matter; and
 - (2) a lawyer representing an indigent client may pay court costs and expenses of litigation on behalf of the client.
- (e) A lawyer shall not accept compensation for representing a client from one other than the client unless:
- (1) the client consents;
 - (2) there is no interference with the lawyer's independence of professional judgment or with the client-lawyer relationship; and
 - (3) information relating to representation of a client is protected as required by Rule 1.05.
- (f) A lawyer who represents two or more clients shall not participate in making an aggregate settlement of the claims of or against the clients, or in a criminal case an aggregated agreement to guilty or nolo contendere pleas, unless each client has consented after consultation, including disclosure of the existence and nature of all the claims or pleas involved and of the nature and extent of the participation of each person in the settlement.
- (g) A lawyer shall not make an agreement prospectively limiting the lawyer's liability to a client for malpractice unless permitted by law and the client is independently represented in making the agreement, or settle a claim for such liability with an unrepresented client or former client with out first advising that person in writing that independent representation is appropriate in connection therewith.
- (h) A lawyer shall not acquire a proprietary interest in the cause of action or subject matter of litigation the lawyer is conducting for a client, except that the lawyer may:
- (1) acquire a lien granted by law to secure the lawyer's fee or expenses; and
 - (2) contract in a civil case with a client for a contingent fee that is permissible under Rule 1.04.

(i) If a lawyer would be prohibited by this Rule from engaging in particular conduct, no other lawyer while a member of or associated with that lawyer's firm may engage in that conduct.

(j) As used in this Rule, "business transactions" does not include standard commercial transactions between the lawyer and the client for products or services that the client generally markets to others.

Rule 1.15. Declining or Terminating Representation

(a) A lawyer shall decline to represent a client or, where representation has commenced, shall withdraw, except as stated in paragraph (c), from the representation of a client, if:

(1) the representation will result in violation of Rule 3.08, other applicable rules of professional conduct or other law;

(2) the lawyer's physical, mental or psychological condition materially impairs the lawyer's fitness to represent the client; or

(3) the lawyer is discharged, with or without good cause.

(b) Except as required by paragraph (a), a lawyer shall not withdraw from representing a client unless:

(1) withdrawal can be accomplished without material adverse effect on the interests of the client;

(2) the client persists in a course of action involving the lawyer's services that the lawyer reasonably believes may be criminal or fraudulent;

(3) the client has used the lawyer's services to perpetrate a crime or fraud;

(4) a client insists upon pursuing an objective that the lawyer considers repugnant or imprudent or with which the lawyer has fundamental disagreement;

(5) the client fails substantially to fulfill an obligation to the lawyer regarding the lawyer's services, including an obligation to pay the lawyer's fee as agreed, and has been given reasonable warning that the lawyer will withdraw unless the obligation is fulfilled;

(6) the representation will result in an unreasonable financial burden on the lawyer or has been rendered unreasonably difficult by the client; or

(7) other good cause for withdrawal exists.

(c) When ordered to do so by a tribunal, a lawyer shall continue representation notwithstanding good cause for terminating the representation.

(d) Upon termination of representation, a lawyer shall take steps to the extent reasonably practicable to protect a client's interests, such as giving reasonable notice to the client, allowing time for employment of other counsel, surrendering papers and property to which the client is entitled and refunding any advance payments of fee that has not been earned. The lawyer may retain papers relating to the client to the extent permitted by other law only if such retention will not prejudice the client in the subject matter of the representation.

Rule 2.01. Advisor

In advising or otherwise representing a client, a lawyer shall exercise independent professional judgment and render candid advice.

Rule 2.02. Evaluation for Use by Third Persons

A lawyer shall not undertake an evaluation of a matter affecting a client for the use of someone other than the client unless:

- (b) the client consents after consultation.

Rule 3.01. Meritorious Claims and Contentions

A lawyer shall not bring or defend a proceeding, or assert or controvert an issue therein, unless the lawyer reasonably believes that there is a basis for doing so that is not frivolous.

Rule 3.03. Candor Toward the Tribunal

(a) A lawyer shall not knowingly:

- (1) make a false statement of material fact or law to a tribunal;
- (2) fail to disclose a fact to a tribunal when disclosure is necessary to avoid assisting a criminal or fraudulent act;
- (3) in an ex parte proceeding, fail to disclose to the tribunal an unprivileged fact which the lawyer reasonably believes should be known by that entity for it to make an informed decision;
- (4) fail to disclose to the tribunal authority in the controlling jurisdiction known to the lawyer to be directly adverse to the position of the client and not disclosed by opposing counsel; or
- (5) offer or use evidence that the lawyer knows to be false.

(b) If a lawyer has offered material evidence and comes to know of its falsity, the lawyer shall make a good faith effort to persuade the client to authorize the lawyer to correct or withdraw the false evidence. If such efforts are unsuccessful, the lawyer shall take reasonable remedial measures, including disclosure of the true facts.

(c) The duties stated in paragraphs (a) and (b) continue until remedial legal measures are no longer reasonably possible.

Rule 3.04. Fairness in Adjudicatory Proceedings

A lawyer shall not:

- (a) unlawfully obstruct another party's access to evidence; in anticipation of a dispute unlawfully alter, destroy or conceal a document or other material that a competent lawyer would believe has potential or actual evidentiary value; or counsel or assist another person to do any such act.
- (b) falsify evidence, counsel or assist a witness to testify falsely, or pay, offer to pay, or acquiesce in the offer or payment of compensation to a witness or other entity contingent upon the content of the testimony of the witness or the outcome of the case.  - (1) expenses reasonably incurred by a witness in attending or testifying;

(1) habitually violate an established rule of procedure or of evidence;

(2) state or allude to any matter that the lawyer does not reasonably believe is relevant to such proceeding or that will not be supported by admissible evidence, or assert personal knowledge of facts in issue except when testifying as a witness;

(3) state a personal opinion as to the justness of a cause, the credibility of a witness, the culpability of a civil litigant or the guilt or innocence of an accused, except that a lawyer may argue on his analysis of the evidence and other permissible considerations for any position or conclusion with respect to the matters stated herein;

(4) ask any question intended to degrade a witness or other person except where the lawyer reasonably believes that the question will lead to relevant and admissible evidence; or

(5) engage in conduct intended to disrupt the proceedings.

(d) knowingly disobey, or advise the client to disobey, an obligation under the standing rules of or a ruling by a tribunal except for an open refusal based either on an assertion that no valid obligation exists or on the client's willingness to accept any sanctions arising from such disobedience.

(e) request a person other than a client to refrain from voluntarily giving relevant information to another party unless:

(1) the person is a relative or an employee or other agent of a client; and

(2) the lawyer reasonably believes that the person's interests will not be adversely affected by refraining from giving such information.

Rule 3.05. Maintaining Impartiality of Tribunal

A lawyer shall not:

(a) seek to influence a tribunal concerning a pending matter by means prohibited by law or applicable rules of practice or procedure;

(b) except as otherwise permitted by law and not prohibited by applicable rules of practice or procedure, communicate or cause another to communicate ex parte with a tribunal for the purpose of influencing that entity or person concerning a pending matter other than:

(2) in writing if he promptly delivers a copy of the writing to opposing counsel or the adverse party if he is not represented by a lawyer;

(3) orally upon adequate notice to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if he is not represented by a lawyer.

(c) For purposes of this rule:

(1) "Matter" has the meanings ascribed by it in Rule 1.10(f) of these Rules;

(2) A matter is "pending" before a particular tribunal either when that entity has been selected to determine the matter or when it is reasonably foreseeable that that entity will be so selected.

Rule 3.06. Maintaining Integrity of Jury System

(a) A lawyer shall not:

(1) conduct or cause another, by financial support or otherwise, to conduct a vexatious or harassing investigation of a venireman or juror; or

(2) seek to influence a venireman or juror concerning the merits of a pending matter by means prohibited by law or applicable rules of practice or procedure.

(b) Prior to discharge of the jury from further consideration of a matter, a lawyer connected therewith shall not communicate with or cause another to communicate with anyone he knows to be a member of the venire from which the jury will be selected or any juror or alternate juror, except in the course of official proceedings.

(c) During the trial of a case, a lawyer not connected therewith shall not communicate with or cause another to communicate with a juror or alternate juror concerning the matter.

(d) After discharge of the jury from further consideration of a matter with which the lawyer was connected, the lawyer shall not ask questions of or make comments to a member of that jury that are calculated merely to harass or embarrass the juror or to influence his actions in future jury service.

(e) All restrictions imposed by this Rule upon a lawyer also apply to communications with or investigations of members of a family of a venireman or a juror.

(f) A lawyer shall reveal promptly to the court improper conduct by a venireman or a juror, or by another toward a venireman or a juror or a member of his family, of which the lawyer has knowledge.

Rule 3.07. Trial Publicity

(a) In the course of representing a client, a lawyer shall not make an extrajudicial statement that a reasonable person would expect to be disseminated by means of public communication if the lawyer knows or reasonably should know that it will have a substantial likelihood of materially prejudicing an adjudicatory proceeding. A lawyer shall not counsel or assist another person to make such a statement.

(b) A lawyer ordinarily will violate paragraph (a), and the likelihood of a violation increases if the adjudication is ongoing or imminent, by making an extrajudicial statement of the type referred to in that paragraph when the statement refers to:

(1) the character, credibility, reputation or criminal record of a party, suspect in a criminal investigation or witness; or the expected testimony of a party or witness;

(2) in a criminal case or proceeding that could result in incarceration, the possibility of a plea of guilty to the offense; the existence or contents of any confession, admission, or statement given by a defendant or suspect; or that person's refusal or failure to make a statement;

(3) the performance, refusal to perform, or results of any examination or test; the refusal or failure of a person to allow or submit to an examination or test; or the identity or nature of physical evidence expected to be presented;

(4) any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of a defendant or suspect in a criminal case or proceeding that could result in incarceration; or

(5) information the lawyer knows or reasonably should know is likely to be inadmissible as evidence in a trial and would if disclosed create a substantial risk of prejudicing an impartial trial.

(c) A lawyer ordinarily will not violate paragraph (a) by making an extrajudicial statement of the type referred to in that paragraph when the lawyer merely states:

- (1) the general nature of the claim or defense;
- (2) the information contained in a public record;
- (3) that an investigation of the matter is in progress, including the general scope of the investigation, the offense, claim or defense involved;

- (c) not initiate or encourage efforts to obtain from an unrepresented accused a waiver of important pre-trial, trial or post-trial rights;
- (d) make timely disclosure to the defense of all evidence or information known to the prosecutor that tends to negate the guilt of the accused or mitigates the offense, and, in connection with sentencing, disclose to the defense and to the tribunal all unprivileged mitigating information known to the prosecutor, except when the prosecutor is relieved of this responsibility by a protective order of the tribunal; and
- (e) exercise reasonable care to prevent persons employed or controlled by the prosecutor in a criminal case from making an extrajudicial statement that the prosecutor would be prohibited from making under Rule 3.07.

In the course of representing a client a lawyer shall not knowingly:

- (a) make a false statement of material fact or law to a third person; or

Rule 4.02. Communication with One Represented by Counsel

(a) In representing a client, a lawyer shall not communicate or cause or encourage another to communicate about the subject of the representation with a person, organization or entity of government the lawyer knows to be represented by another lawyer regarding that subject, unless the lawyer has the consent of the other lawyer or is authorized by law to do so.

(b) In representing a client a lawyer shall not communicate or cause another to communicate about the subject of representation with a person or organization a lawyer knows to be employed or retained for the purpose of conferring with or advising another lawyer about the subject of the representation, unless the lawyer has the consent of the other lawyer or is authorized by law to do so.

(c) For the purpose of this rule, "organization or entity of government" includes: (1) those persons presently having a managerial responsibility with an organization or entity of government that relates to the subject of the representation, or (2) those persons presently employed by such organization or entity and whose act or omission in connection with the subject of representation may make the organization or entity of government vicariously liable for such act or omission.

(d) When a person, organization, or entity of government that is represented by a lawyer in a matter seeks advice regarding that matter from another lawyer, the second lawyer is not prohibited by paragraph (a) from giving such advice without notifying or seeking consent of the first lawyer.

Rule 4.03. Dealing With Unrepresented Person

In dealing on behalf of a client with a person who is not represented by counsel, a lawyer shall not state or imply that the lawyer is disinterested. When the lawyer knows or reasonably should know that the unrepresented person misunderstands the lawyer's role in the matter, the lawyer shall make reasonable efforts to correct the misunderstanding.

Rule 4.04. Respect for Rights of Third Persons

(a) In representing a client, a lawyer shall not use means that have no substantial purpose other than to embarrass, delay, or burden a third person, or use methods of obtaining evidence that violate the legal rights of such a person.

(b) A lawyer shall not present, participate in presenting, or threaten to present:

- (1) criminal or disciplinary charges solely to gain an advantage in a civil matter; or
- (2) civil, criminal or disciplinary charges against a complainant, a witness, or a potential witness in a bar disciplinary proceeding solely to prevent participation by the complainant, witness or potential witness therein.

Rule 5.04. Professional Independence of a Lawyer

(a) A lawyer or law firm shall not share or promise to share legal fees with a non-lawyer, except that:

(1) an agreement by a lawyer with the lawyer's firm, partner, or associate, or a lawful court order, may provide for the payment of money, over a reasonable period of time, to the lawyer's estate to or for the benefit of the lawyer's heirs or personal representatives, beneficiaries, or former spouse, after the lawyer's death or as otherwise provided by law or court order.

(2) a lawyer who undertakes to complete unfinished legal business of a deceased lawyer may pay to the estate of the deceased lawyer that proportion of the total compensation which fairly represents the services rendered by the deceased lawyer; and

(3) a lawyer or law firm may include non-lawyer employees in a retirement plan, even though the plan is based in whole or in part on a profit-sharing arrangement.

(b) A lawyer shall not form a partnership with a non-lawyer if any of the activities of the partnership consist of the practice of law.

(b) Except as permitted in paragraphs (c) or (d), a lawyer having knowledge that a judge has committed a violation of applicable rules of judicial conduct that raises a substantial question as to the judge's fitness for office shall inform the appropriate authority.

(c) A lawyer having knowledge or suspecting that another lawyer or judge whose conduct the lawyer is required to report pursuant to paragraphs (a) or (b) of this Rule is impaired by chemical dependency on alcohol or drugs or by mental illness may report that person to an approved peer assistance program rather than to an appropriate disciplinary authority. If a lawyer elects that option, the lawyer's report to the approved peer assistance program shall disclose any disciplinary violations that the reporting lawyer would otherwise have to disclose to the authorities referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b).

(d) This rule does not require disclosure of knowledge or information otherwise protected as confidential information:

(1) by Rule 1.05 or

(2) by any statutory or regulatory provisions applicable to the counseling activities of the approved peer assistance program.
