I. THERE ARE SEXUALLY VIOLENT CHILD MURDERERS, AND THEN THERE ARE CHILDREN THAT ARE ACCUSED OF INAPPROPRIATE SEXUAL BEHAVIORS. THIS FUNDAMENTAL DISTINCTION PROVIDES THE CORE STRATEGY FOR EXEMPTING JUVENILES FROM SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION. •

Bad facts make bad law, and on October 22, 1989, some particularly dreadful facts were brewing.

Eleven year-old Jacob Wetterling lived in St. Joseph, Minnesota. He, his brother, and a friend were riding home from a convenience store on bikes, when a masked man came out of a driveway and ordered the boys to throw their bikes into a ditch and lie down on the ground. The man had a gun, so the boys complied. He asked each boy his age. Jacob's brother and friend were told to run toward a nearby wooded area, but Jacob was taken away. A massive search effort was undertaken to locate Jacob, but neither he nor his abductor have been found. In 1994, the Jacob Wetterling Crimes Against Children and Sexually Violent Offender Registration Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 14071, more simply known as the Jacob Wetterling Act, was passed in his honor.

Five years later, another horrendous crime would alter the landscape from sex offender registration to include community notification. Eight year-old Megan Kanka lived across the street from a man named Jesse Timmendequas, a convicted sex offender recently released from the New Jersey treatment-oriented correctional facility for sex offenders. On July 29, 1994, Timmendequas tricked Megan to come inside his house by saying he had a puppy that was too young to come outside. He proceeded to rape her, and tried to kill her by slamming her head into a dresser and suffocating her with a plastic bag. He finally strangled her to death with a belt. He moved her body to his car, where he raped her again before placing her in a toybox and dumping her in a park. A jury later convicted Timmendequas of Kanka's rape and murder and sentenced him to death. Megan Kanka's death resulted in the New Jersey Legislature passing Megan's Law, which requires notification when a convicted sex offender moves into a neighborhood. In 1996, the Jacob Wetterling Act was amended by Megan's Law.

These isolated cases are sure to make every parent fearful for their children's safety. Heck, I'll admit it: after reviewing the facts of above-referenced cases, I went home and gave my two girls fifteen extra hugs and kisses before tucking them in to bed that night. These cases are the extremes - the rarities - that probably warrant extreme responses. However, when you imagine the sexual predator capable of these types of acts - do you ever think of a 16 year-old awkward adolescent?

• This paper draws upon the work, expertise and wisdom of a number of sources, including Linda Icenhauer-Ramirez, John Zepeda, Robert Dawson, Patricia Cummings, Catherine Burnett, Kevin Collins, and Nancy Arrigona, whose materials, presentations and papers have been incredible resources. All of the research and analysis of sex offender registration laws and their efficacy come from reports generated by the Council on Sex Offender Treatment, the Center for Sex Offender Management, and the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention's Juvenile Justice Clearinghouse. Many of these reports have been included on your CD. The included motions were derived from work by Mark Daniel and Corinne Sumpter-González.

Probably not.

Most teenagers consistently only really inspire fear when they are on the road learning to drive. However, when publicly labeled a “sex offender,” that same teenager is deemed a sexual predator, whether his unlawful behavior was sexually experimental, or, much less common, sexually violent.

What began as assistance in law enforcement has developed into a groundswell of a public demand to know what kind of people live next door. While sex offender registration allows law enforcement to monitor sex offenders who have completed probation or parole, community notification allows the public to take matters into its own hands. From neighborhood association bylaws outlawing residency by sex offenders to distributing leaflets notifying neighbors of a sex offender, there are few limits to what the community is allowed to do with this public registration information. Nearly every single court across the United States has held that registration and notification requirements are nothing more than “collateral consequences” to conviction. See Smith v. Doe, 538 U.S. 84 (2003) (United States Supreme Court finds no violation of ex post facto clause in Alaska’s sex offender registration statute because sex offender registration and notification fulfilled law enforcement, not punitive, purposes).

“Collateral” to who? If the purpose is not punitive, then why is it made so public and for such a long period of time?

A “collateral consequence” shouldn’t brand you for decades.

A “collateral consequence” shouldn’t prevent you from obtaining a job.

A “collateral consequence” shouldn’t prevent you from finding a place to live.

A “collateral consequence” shouldn’t prevent you from enrolling in college.

A “collateral consequence” shouldn’t prevent you from moving forward with your life.

A “collateral consequence” shouldn’t make sure you have your porch light off for Halloween, or prevent you from having a ‘MySpace’ account, or from accessing the Internet altogether.

A “collateral consequence” wouldn’t taunt you or tease you; throw rocks through your windows, slice your tires or throw eggs at your house.

A “collateral consequence” shouldn’t be an invitation for others to berate, demean, and physically attack you without knowing who you are or what really happened.

By definition, a “collateral consequence” is not meant to be punitive. With all due respect to the appellate courts, if you believe that sex offender registration and notification are not punitive, spend a few minutes talking with the families of juveniles who have suffered under this burden - especially when registration occurred because of inappropriate sibling sexual contact. If the public supports and demands this type of legislation then that is the benefit and burden of living in a democratic society. However, the fact that the public so angrily demands registration as a form of “justice” ironically illustrates the punitive motive behind blanket registration and notification for all offenders. If the trial court believes that registration or notification has only a “collateral” effect on a 16 year-old’s life, we will have a difficult time winning the motion for exemption.

Pursuant to our request, the Texas Department of Public Safety recently provided us information that as of the writing of this paper, there are currently 3,909 people that are on the Texas Sex Offender Registry due to juvenile adjudications. 33 people of the 3,909 are juveniles under the age of 17 that are currently registered in Texas.

The focus of this paper is to assist defenders in challenging juvenile sex offender registration and public notification by negotiating for a non-registerable offense, obtaining an exemption to sex offender registration, or by successfully litigating a motion for deregistration. There is little empirical evidence that proves that sex offender registration, especially juvenile registration, reduces recidivism or increases public safety. On the contrary, once our clients are labeled sex offenders during their most formative adolescent years, their rehabilitation - the focus, after all, of the juvenile court - is not advanced, but hindered. While the process and notification requirements for juveniles are substantially similar to the adult system, the juvenile court’s presumption for rehabilitation should be the important distinction in challenging sex offender registration of kids.

II. THE PROCESS OF JUVENILE SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION

When Congress passed the Jacob Wetterling Act, every state was required to create registries of sex offenders. This was an unfunded mandate: states did not receive any additional federal funding to comply with the Act, but a state would be financially penalized if it failed to comply with the Act’s requirements.¹ Under the Act, at a minimum, the states must maintain a state registry of offenders and an Internet site with public information; classify offenders as either sexually violent offenders, sexually violent predators or committing sex crimes against minors; and create procedures for offenders to verify and update residential information.

There is no federal requirement that the states institute registration requirements for juvenile offenders. Unfortunately, our Legislature did not want to take any chances: Texas is among 28 states that have expanded the registration requirements set forth in the Jacob Wetterling Act to include juveniles.

A. Differences Between Adult & Juvenile Registration: Exemption & Non-Registration

The significant differences between juvenile and adult sex offender registration requirements involve the greater ability to excuse registration, and the shorter duration of registration. THIS MAY NOT ALWAYS BE THE LAW. As of this date, Texas has opted not to comply with the federal Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act (SORNA) – also known as the Adam Walsh Act – and has therefore lost millions in federal funds. The reason Texas has not complied is economic: The cost to implement SORNA is much more than the cost of losing the funds. However, another reason for non-compliance has been dissatisfaction among Texas legislators over the juvenile registration requirement of SORNA.² One of the lobbyists for TCDLA, Kristin Etter, successfully convinced the Senator sponsoring this conforming legislation to leave the juvenile deregistration process alone during a past legislative session. However, many of the requirements of SORNA are retroactive, and there is a very real possibility that children who are exempt from registration or successfully deregistered are subject to future registration requirements despite the previous court order if Texas were to ever come into compliance with SORNA.

FOR THIS REASON, YOU SHOULD NEVER PROMISE A CHILD OR HIS FAMILY THAT THE DEREGISTRATION OR EXEMPTION IS FINAL.

It is important to let your clients know the political landscape and how matters may change in the future. There is a clear conflict between federal and state law on this issue which will have to be resolved. Thankfully, the defense bar is not the only group upset by the impending conflict between federal and state law on this issue. Included in your materials is an outstanding letter from the National Conference of State Legislatures outlining numerous problems with SORNA.

Thus, for the present time, here are the differences between juvenile and adult sex offender registration:

1. Any type of juvenile adjudication can be prevented from registration.

Whereas most adult offenses preclude any ability to exempt registration, any juvenile adjudication for any sex offense is eligible for exemption - even offenses that would be considered sexually violent offenses had the respondent been over 17. Furthermore, as compared to juvenile adjudications, the limited exemption for certain young adult sex offenders under Article 62.301 also requires proof of consensual sexual contact and that the defendant was not more than four years older than the victim and that the victim was at least 15.

2. Juvenile Sex Offender Registration can be deferred while the respondent receives treatment.

² <http://diginole.lib.fsu.edu/islandora/object/fsu:252641/datastream/PDF/view>

While the adult sex offender registration requirements begin upon release on probation or parole, juvenile registration can be deferred while the child receives treatment on probation, at a Residential Treatment Center, or at TYC.

3. Registration can be non public.

Even if a juvenile is required to register as a sex offender, the court can order that the registration information is kept off the Internet and made non-public.

4. Juvenile Sex offender registration can be retroactively exempted for any type of adjudication.

A juvenile who is a registered sex offender for an adjudication of delinquent conduct may file a motion asking the court exempting him from registration under Article 62.353.

In 2005, the legislature also allowed early termination of an adult's obligation to register retroactively by adding Article 62.404. Under that Article, a person who is required to register for certain sex offenses may request and receive an individual risk assessment under Article 62.403 and may then file a motion for early termination. There is a motion attached to your materials that we have successfully used in the past and more information can be found at the Texas Department of State Health Services, Council on Sex Offender Treatment website at https://www.dshs.state.tx.us/csot_EarlyTerm.shtm.

5. There are no limits to the number of adjudications in order to be exempt from registration

In order to qualify for exemption as a young adult sex offender under Article 62.301, a person can only have a single reportable conviction or adjudication. There is no similar restriction for juveniles.

6. Registration expires 10 years after disposition is completed.

While most sex offenses in the adult system impose a lifetime registration requirement, there is more or less a twenty-year cap on juvenile sex offender registration. The duty to register ends on the tenth anniversary of the date of disposition or when the respondent completes the terms of the disposition, whichever date is later. Unless the respondent is on a 10-year determinate sentence probation, his duty to register will usually expire before his 30th birthday.

B. School Notification & Removal

Unlike many adults who may still be allowed to continue their professional lives without their boss or manager knowing about a criminal accusation, our client's principal, vice-principal, and teachers will likely know of their arrest immediately.

1. Notification to the school upon arrest

Upon arrest of any felony or certain misdemeanors (including indecent exposure), the arresting officer must contact the school within 24 hours or on the next school day. This requirement will always encompass sexually related offenses even when they happen off campus or during the summer.

Article 15.27 of the Code of Criminal Procedure addresses the school notification issue for sex offenders specifically:

Art. 15.27. NOTIFICATION TO SCHOOLS REQUIRED.

(a) A law enforcement agency that arrests any person or refers a child to the office or official designated by the juvenile board who the agency believes is enrolled as a student in a public primary or secondary school, for an offense listed in Subsection (h), shall attempt to ascertain whether the person is so enrolled. If the law enforcement agency ascertains that the individual is enrolled as a student in a public primary or secondary school, the agency shall orally notify the superintendent or a person designated by the superintendent in the school district in which the student is enrolled of that arrest or referral within 24 hours after the arrest or referral is made, or on the next school day. If the law enforcement agency cannot ascertain whether the individual is enrolled as a student, the agency shall orally notify the superintendent or a person designated by the superintendent in the school district in which the student is believed to be enrolled of that arrest or detention within 24 hours after the arrest or detention, or on the next school day. If the individual is a student, the superintendent shall promptly notify all instructional and support personnel who have responsibility for supervision of the student. All personnel shall keep the information received in this subsection confidential. The State Board for Educator Certification may revoke or suspend the certification of personnel who intentionally violate this subsection. Within seven days after the date the oral notice is given, the law enforcement agency shall mail written notification, marked "PERSONAL and CONFIDENTIAL" on the mailing envelope, to the superintendent or the person designated by the superintendent. Both the oral and written notice shall contain sufficient details of the arrest or referral and the acts allegedly committed by the student to enable the superintendent or the superintendent's designee to determine whether there is a reasonable belief that the student has engaged in conduct defined as a felony offense by the Penal Code. The information contained in the notice may be considered by the superintendent or the superintendent's designee in making such a determination.

(a-1) The superintendent or a person designated by the superintendent in the school district shall send to a school district employee having direct supervisory responsibility over the student the information contained in the confidential notice under Subsection (a).

(b) On conviction, deferred prosecution, or deferred adjudication or an adjudication of delinquent conduct of an individual enrolled as a student in a public primary or secondary school, for an offense or for any conduct listed in Subsection (h) of this article, the office of the prosecuting attorney acting in the case shall orally notify the superintendent or a person designated by the superintendent in the school district in which the student is enrolled of the conviction or adjudication and whether the student is required to register as a sex offender under Chapter 62. Oral notification must be given within 24 hours of the time of the order or on the next school day. The superintendent shall, within 24 hours of receiving notification from the office of the prosecuting attorney, or before the next school day, whichever is earlier, notify all instructional and support personnel who have regular contact with the student. Within seven days after the date the oral notice is given, the office of the prosecuting attorney shall mail written notice, which must contain a statement of the offense of which the individual is convicted or on which the adjudication, deferred adjudication, or deferred prosecution is grounded and a statement of whether the student is required to register as a sex offender under Chapter 62.

(c) A parole or probation office having jurisdiction over a student described by Subsection (a), (b), or (e) who transfers from a school or is subsequently removed from a school and later returned to a school or school district other than the one the student was enrolled in when the arrest, referral to a juvenile court, conviction, or adjudication occurred shall notify the new school officials of the arrest or referral in a manner similar to that provided for by Subsection (a) or (e)(1), or of the conviction or delinquent adjudication in a manner similar to that provided for by Subsection (b) or (e)(2). The new school officials shall promptly notify all instructional and support personnel who have regular contact with the student.

(e)(1) A law enforcement agency that arrests, or refers to a juvenile court under Chapter 52, Family Code, an individual who the law enforcement agency knows or believes is enrolled as a student in a private primary or secondary school shall make the oral and written notifications described by Subsection (a) to the principal or a school employee designated by the principal of the school in which the student is enrolled.

(2) On conviction, deferred prosecution, or deferred adjudication or an adjudication of delinquent conduct of an individual enrolled as a student in a private primary or secondary school, the office of prosecuting attorney shall make the oral and written notifications described by Subsection (b) of this article to the principal or a school employee designated by the principal of the school in which the student is enrolled.

(3) The principal of a private school in which the student is enrolled or a school employee designated by the principal may send to a school employee having direct supervisory responsibility over the student the information contained in the confidential notice, for the same purposes as described by Subsection (d) of this article.

(f) A person who receives information under this article may not disclose the information except as specifically authorized by this article. A person who intentionally violates this article commits an offense. An offense under this subsection is a Class C misdemeanor.

(g) The office of the prosecuting attorney or the office or official designated by the juvenile board shall, within two working days, notify the school district that removed a student to a disciplinary alternative education program under Section 37.006, Education Code, if:

(1) prosecution of the student's case was refused for lack of prosecutorial merit or insufficient evidence and no formal proceedings, deferred adjudication, or deferred prosecution will be initiated; or

(2) the court or jury found the student not guilty or made a finding the child did not engage in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision and the case was dismissed with prejudice.

- (h) This article applies to any felony offense and the following misdemeanors:
- (1) an offense under Section 20.02 [Unlawful Restraint], 21.08 [Indecent Exposure], 22.01 [Assault], 22.05 [Deadly Conduct], 22.07 [Terroristic Threat], or 71.02 [Engaging in Organized Crime], Penal Code;
 - (2) the unlawful use, sale, or possession of a controlled substance, drug paraphernalia, or marihuana, as defined by Chapter 481, Health and Safety Code; or
 - (3) the unlawful possession of any of the weapons or devices listed in Sections 46.01(1)-(14) or (16), Penal Code, or a weapon listed as a prohibited weapon under Section 46.05, Penal Code.

(i) A person may substitute electronic notification for oral notification where oral notification is required by this article. If electronic notification is substituted for oral notification, any written notification required by this article is not required.

(j) The notification provisions of this section concerning a person who is required to register as a sex offender under Chapter 62 do not lessen the requirement of a person to provide any additional notification prescribed by that chapter.

2. Removal of Sex Offenders from the Regular Classroom

There is a specific procedure for educating (and removing) students who must register as a sex offender. Essentially, if the student is currently under court supervision for a sex offense the school district SHALL remove the student to an alternative education placement (AEP) for at least one semester. If the student is merely registering as a sex offender and is no longer on probation (probably an extremely rare occurrence) the school may keep the student in the regular classroom if the student can prove he is not a danger to other students, is not an educational disruption, and is not a threat.

The full text of the law is as follows:

SUBCHAPTER I. PLACEMENT OF REGISTERED SEX OFFENDERS

Sec. 37.301. DEFINITION. In this subchapter, "board of trustees" includes the board's designee.

Sec. 37.302. APPLICABILITY. This subchapter:

- (1) applies to a student who is required to register as a sex offender under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure; and
- (2) does not apply to a student who is no longer required to register as a sex offender under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure, including a student who receives an exemption from registration under Subchapter H, Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure, or a student who receives an early termination of the obligation to register under Subchapter I, Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure.

Sec. 37.303. REMOVAL OF REGISTERED SEX OFFENDER FROM REGULAR CLASSROOM. Notwithstanding any provision of Subchapter A, on receiving notice under Article 15.27, Code of Criminal Procedure, or Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure, that a student is required to register as a sex offender under that chapter, a school district shall remove the student from the regular classroom and determine the appropriate placement of the student in the manner provided by this subchapter.

Sec. 37.304. PLACEMENT OF REGISTERED SEX OFFENDER WHO IS UNDER COURT SUPERVISION. (a) A school district shall place a student to whom this subchapter applies and who is under any form of court supervision, including probation, community supervision, or parole, in the appropriate alternative education program as provided by Section 37.309 for at least one semester.

(b) If a student transfers to another school district during the student's mandatory placement in an alternative education program under Subsection (a), the district to which the student transfers may:

(1) require the student to complete an additional semester in the appropriate alternative education program without conducting a review of the student's placement for that semester under Section 37.306; or

(2) count any time spent by the student in an alternative education program in the district from which the student transfers toward the mandatory placement requirement under Subsection (a).

Sec. 37.305. PLACEMENT OF REGISTERED SEX OFFENDER WHO IS NOT UNDER COURT SUPERVISION. A school district may place a student to whom this subchapter applies and who is not under any form of court supervision in the appropriate alternative education program as provided by Section 37.309 for one semester or in the regular classroom. The district may not place the student in the regular classroom if the district board of trustees determines that the student's presence in the regular classroom:

(1) threatens the safety of other students or teachers;

(2) will be detrimental to the educational process; or

(3) is not in the best interests of the district's students.

Sec. 37.306. REVIEW OF PLACEMENT IN ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM. (a) At the end of the first semester of a student's placement in an alternative education program under Section 37.304 or 37.305, the school district board of trustees shall convene a committee to review the student's placement in the alternative education program. The committee must be composed of:

(1) a classroom teacher from the campus to which the student would be assigned were the student not placed in an alternative education program;

(2) the student's parole or probation officer or, in the case of a student who does not have a parole or probation officer, a representative of the local juvenile probation department;

(3) an instructor from the alternative education program to which the student is assigned;

(4) a school district designee selected by the board of trustees; and

(5) a school counselor employed by the school district.

(b) The committee by majority vote shall determine and recommend to the school district board of trustees whether the student should be returned to the regular classroom or remain in the alternative education program.

(c) If the committee recommends that the student be returned to the regular classroom, the board of trustees shall return the student to the regular classroom unless the board determines that the student's presence in the regular classroom:

(1) threatens the safety of other students or teachers;

(2) will be detrimental to the educational process; or

(3) is not in the best interests of the district's students.

(d) If the committee recommends that the student remain in the alternative education program, the board of trustees shall continue the student's placement in the alternative education program unless the board determines that the student's presence in the regular classroom:

- (1) does not threaten the safety of other students or teachers;
- (2) will not be detrimental to the educational process; and
- (3) is not contrary to the best interests of the district's students.

(e) If, after receiving a recommendation under Subsection (b), the school district board of trustees determines that the student should remain in an alternative education program, the board shall before the beginning of each school year convene the committee described by Subsection (a) to review, in the manner provided by Subsections (b), (c), and (d), the student's placement in an alternative education program.

Sec. 37.307. PLACEMENT AND REVIEW OF STUDENT WITH DISABILITY. (a) The placement under this subchapter of a student with a disability who receives special education services must be made in compliance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (20 U.S.C. Section 1400 et seq.).

(b) The review under Section 37.306 of the placement of a student with a disability who receives special education services may be made only by a duly constituted admission, review, and dismissal committee. The admission, review, and dismissal committee may request that the board of trustees convene a committee described by Section 37.306(a) to assist the admission, review, and dismissal committee in conducting the review.

Sec. 37.308. TRANSFER OF REGISTERED SEX OFFENDER. Except as provided by Section 37.304(b), a school district shall determine whether to place a student to whom this subchapter applies and who transfers to the district in the appropriate alternative education program as provided by Section 37.309 or in a regular classroom. The school district shall follow the procedures specified under Section 37.306 in making the determination.

Sec. 37.309. PLACEMENT IN DISCIPLINARY ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM OR JUVENILE JUSTICE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b), a school district shall place a student who is required by the board of trustees to attend an alternative education program under this subchapter in a disciplinary alternative education program.

(b) A school district shall place a student who is required by the board of trustees to attend an alternative education program under this subchapter in a juvenile justice alternative education program if:

- (1) the memorandum of understanding entered into between the school district and juvenile board under Section 37.011(k) provides for the placement of students to whom this subchapter applies in the juvenile justice alternative education program; or
- (2) a court orders the placement of the student in a juvenile justice alternative education program.

Sec. 37.310. FUNDING FOR REGISTERED SEX OFFENDER PLACED IN JUVENILE JUSTICE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM. A juvenile justice alternative education program is entitled to funding for a student who is placed in the program under this subchapter in the same manner as a juvenile justice alternative education program is entitled to funding under Section 37.012 for a student who is expelled and placed in a juvenile justice alternative education program for conduct for which expulsion is permitted but not required under Section 37.007.

Sec. 37.311. CONFERENCE. (a) A student or the student's parent or guardian may appeal a decision by a school district board of trustees to place the student in an alternative education program under this subchapter by requesting a conference among the board of trustees, the student's parent or guardian, and the student. The conference is limited to the factual question of whether the student is required to register as a sex offender under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure.

(b) If the school district board of trustees determines at the conclusion of the conference that the student is required to register as a sex offender under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure, the student is subject to placement in an alternative education program in the manner provided by this subchapter.

(c) A decision by the board of trustees under this section is final and may not be appealed.

Sec. 37.312. LIABILITY. This subchapter does not:

(1) waive any liability or immunity of a governmental entity or its officers or employees; or

(2) create any liability for or a cause of action against a governmental entity or its officers or employees.

Sec. 37.313. CONFLICTS OF LAW. To the extent of any conflict between a provision of this subchapter and a provision of Subchapter A, this subchapter prevails.

C. Laundry List of Offenses That Trigger Sex Offender Registration

Article 62.001(5) of the Code of Criminal Procedure lists the following offenses that are classified as a “reportable conviction or adjudication”:

- Indecency with a child
- Sexual assault
- Aggravated sexual assault
- Continuous Sexual Assault of a Child
- Prohibited sexual conduct (Incest)
- Indecent Exposure (second adjudication)
- Compelling prostitution
- Prostitution if person solicited was younger than 18
- Sexual performance by a child
- Possession or promotion of child pornography
- Online solicitation of a minor
- Aggravated kidnapping if the respondent committed the offense with intent to violate or abuse the victim sexually
- Burglary of a habitation with intent to commit a specific sexual offense
- Unlawful restraint, Kidnapping, or Aggravated Kidnapping if the victim or intended victim was younger than 17 years of age
- Any attempt, conspiracy, or solicitation to commit an aforementioned offense (except indecent exposure)
- A violation of the laws of another state, federal law, or the laws of a foreign country, or the Uniform Code of Military Justice for or based on the violation of an offense containing elements that are substantially similar to the elements of the above offenses, but not if the violation results in a deferred adjudication. The Texas Department of Public Safety determines whether an offense under federal law, the laws of a foreign country, or the laws of another state contains elements that are substantially similar to the elements of a Texas offense that requires registration.

Additionally, there is no age-based exemption or affirmative defense³ under Section 43.26 (Possession or promotion of child pornography) or 43.25 (sexual performance by a child) which would prevent prosecution of an amorous high school couple armed with a camera (e.g. Keanu Reeves and Martha Plimpton's bedroom scene in Ron Howard's movie, Parenthood.) While this type of case might not be prosecuted, it illustrates how the legislature simply tacked on juvenile registration to a system designed to punish predatory adult conduct.

D. Where & How to Register

A juvenile subject to sex offender registration registers with the local law enforcement authority of the municipality (police station) where he or she resides. If the juvenile does not reside in a city, he registers with the local law enforcement authority of the county (sheriff's office) where the juvenile resides. Registration must be completed not later than the seventh day after the date the juvenile arrives in the municipality or county or the first date the local law enforcement authority of the municipality or county by policy allows the person to register. Once the juvenile registers with the local law enforcement authority of the municipality or county where s/he resides, that local law enforcement authority becomes the juvenile's primary registration authority.

If a sex offender resides outside of Texas and works or attends school in Texas, the person registers with the local law enforcement authority of the municipality or county where the offender works or attends school.

Ironically, most law enforcement agencies make it complicated for a person to register. In many jurisdictions a person cannot simply walk in on the last day and register without an appointment. Every local law enforcement authority has different procedures, and unless you are familiar with the local rules, a client may miss the deadline to register even if he started the process within seven days.

E. What Information Must Be Provided

The following information is required under Article 62.051(c):

1. the person's full name, each alias, date of birth, sex, race, height, weight, eye color, hair color, social security number, driver's license number and shoe size;
 - (1-a) the address at which the person resides or intends to reside or, if the person does not reside or intend to reside at a physical address, a detailed description of each geographical location at which the person resides or intends to reside;

³ See, e.g., Section 33.021(b) (online solicitation of a minor) where only persons over 17 years old can be prosecuted, or Section 21.11(b) (indecentcy with a child) where a three-year age difference is an affirmative defense to prosecution.

(1-b) each alias used by the person and any home, work, or cellular telephone number of the person;

2. a recent color photograph or, if possible, an electronic digital image of the person and a complete set of the person's fingerprints;

3. the type of offense the person was convicted of, the age of the victim, the date of conviction, and the punishment received;

4. an indication as to whether the person is discharged, paroled, or released on juvenile probation, community supervision, or mandatory supervision;

5. an indication of each license that is held or sought by the person;

6. an indication as to whether the person is or will be employed, carrying on a vocation, or a student at a particular public or private institution of higher education in this state or another state, and the name and address of that institution; and

7. the identification of any online identifier established or used by the person; and

8. any other information required by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

This information is considered public information except for the person's social security number, driver's license number, telephone number and information that would identify the victim. If additional information is required by DPS under the catchall of Article 62.051(c)(7), it is also considered nonpublic.

F. How Frequently the Information Must Be Provided

In another indication of how the sex offender registration and notification laws did not have juveniles in mind, juveniles who live in divorced households may have particularly cumbersome registrations requirement. If the child is subject to a standard visitation schedule, the child may or may not have to register at two different addresses. Given the number of divorced households, plus given then number of households where one parent is not actively involved in raising the child, this creates yet another battleground about which household has to be listed as the home of a registered sex offender.

Registered sex offenders must report all changes in address to the proper local law enforcement authorities seven days before an intended change in address. If the juvenile moves to another state, he or she has ten days after arrival in the other state to register with the law enforcement agency that is identified by the Texas Department of Public Safety as the agency designated by that state to receive registration information.

In addition to providing notification of all address changes, registered sex offenders have seven days to provide notice about changes in the offender's name, physical health, job status, and educational status. Furthermore, if the person spends more than 48 consecutive hours in a municipality or county, other than the municipality or county in which the sex offender is registered, for more than three times in a month, he or she must report that fact to the local law enforcement authority of the municipality or county in which the offender is visiting. In reporting this fact to the proper local law enforcement authority, the sex offender must provide all the information that is required for sex offender registration, the address of any location in the municipality or county at which the offender was lodged during the month, and a statement as to whether the offender intends to return to the municipality or county during the succeeding month.

All registered sex offenders who either work at or enroll in a public or private institution of higher education (university, college, community college, or technical or trade institution) must provide notice of that fact to two different entities. First, the offender must notify the authority for campus security (i.e. campus police department) for the institution of higher education that the offender has begun to work or attend school at the institution. Second, the offender must notify the offender's primary registration authority of the offender's work or enrollment at the institution of higher education. These notifications must be provided not later than the seventh day after the date the offender begins work or enrollment at the institution of higher education. The offender must also notify the authority for campus security and primary registration authority when the offender terminates work or enrollment at the institution of higher education. This notification must be provided not later than the seventh day after the date the offender terminates work or enrollment at the institution.

G. Numeric Risk Levels & the Notification Implications for High Risk Offenders

A numeric risk level indicates the level of risk a sex offender poses to the community. A numeric risk level is assigned to each sex offender when the offender is released from a penal institution or placed on community supervision or juvenile probation. It is determined by using the sex offender screening tool adopted by the Risk Assessment Review Committee. There are three different risk levels:

Level one (low): indicates that the person poses a low danger to the community and will not likely engage in criminal sexual conduct.

Level two (moderate): indicates that the person poses a moderate danger to the community and may continue to engage in criminal sexual conduct.

Level three (high): indicates that the person poses a serious danger to the community and will continue to engage in criminal sexual conduct.

Each level is based on a point system derived from the danger the person poses to the community or the likelihood that the person will continue to engage in criminal sexual conduct. The numeric risk level assignment impacts the intensity of the offender's registration requirements, and can determine, among other things, whether or not there is a neighborhood notification requirement. DPS will notify local law enforcement when a registered sex offender moves to its area. That local law enforcement authority must then verify with DPS the registrant's numeric risk level within eight days of receiving the risk level notice.

If a person is assessed a risk level of three, there are two additional public notice requirements:

Postcard Notification of Civilly Committed and High-Risk Offenders

When the Texas Department of Public Safety receives notice that a sex offender is either civilly committed as a sexually violent predator or assigned a high-risk level is due to be released into a community or intends to move to a new address, the Texas Department of Public Safety will provide written notice in English and Spanish to the immediate community where the sex offender intends to reside. This written notice will be in the form of a postcard mailed or delivered to at least each address (excluding post office boxes) within a one-mile radius, in an area that has not been subdivided, or a three-block area, in an area that has been subdivided, of the place where the civilly committed or high-risk sex offender intends to reside.

Newspaper Publication

Local law enforcement authorities are permitted to publish all high-risk sex offenders in any newspaper, periodical or circular in the area where the offender intends to reside. For low and moderate-risk offenders, local law enforcement authorities are permitted to publish the offender in a newspaper, periodical or circular in the area where the offender resides unless the offender is registering on the basis of one or more adjudications of delinquent conduct (juveniles).

Thankfully, even if a juvenile offender is assessed a high risk level Article 62.062 prevents newspaper publication for juvenile adjudications.

H. Public Notification for all other offenders

Except for the additional notice requirement required by persons with a risk level of three, all registered sex offenders will be subject to the following:

Local Law Enforcement

Approximately one week before a person subject to registration is due to be released from jail or placed on probation, the local law enforcement agency must be notified of where the person expects to reside.

The DPS Sex Offender Database

Local law enforcement authorities submit all sex offender registration information to the Texas Department of Public Safety. The Texas Department of Public Safety puts this information in the DPS Sex Offender Database. The public may obtain information contained in this database at any time via the Texas Department of Public Safety website. The DPS Sex Offender Database can be accessed at <http://records.txdps.state.tx.us/soSearch/default.cfm>.

Driver's License or Personal Identification

Any registered sex offender must apply for a driver's license or personal identification or renew their existing ID within thirty days of starting probation or parole. Failure to timely apply for a driver's license or renewal could result in an automatic suspension of the person's license.

DNA Specimen

A person required to register as a sex offender must comply with a request for a DNA specimen made by law enforcement. At least one court of appeals has held that a respondent must submit a DNA specimen even though he was excused from sex offender registration. See In re D.L.C., 124 S.W.3d 354 (Tex.App.-Fort Worth, 2003) ("The fact that a juvenile may be excused from registration does not alter the fact that he was placed on probation for an offense requiring sex offender registration or nullify the independent requirement of a DNA sample. Thus, here, because Appellants were adjudicated of a qualifying offense and were placed on probation, the prerequisites for applying the DNA statute were met. See TEX. FAM.CODE ANN. § 54.0405(b) (specifying that DNA statute applies to child placed on probation for conduct constituting an offense requiring registration as sex offender)).

I. Distinction Between Restrictions Resulting From Registration Versus Restrictions That Are A Condition Of Probation Or Parole

Because there are so many restrictions placed upon a person accused of a sex related offense, it is difficult to keep track of the authority for each restriction. As a general rule, the mere fact that a person is registered as a sex offender does not prohibit a person from doing anything; the only additional criminal liability imposed by registration is that failure to register is a felony offense.

Restrictions related to unsupervised contact with minors, polygraph examinations, residency restrictions, and employment restrictions are all conditions of parole or probation. Texas probation and parole law requires the imposition of a “child safety zone” on a sex offender placed on community supervision (probation) or released on parole or mandatory supervision if the offender’s victim was a child. A “child safety zone” prohibits sex offenders on community supervision, parole, or mandatory supervision from supervising or participating in any program that includes as participants or recipients persons 17 years of age or younger and that regularly provides athletic, civic, or cultural activities or going in, on, or within a specified distance of a premises where children commonly gather (i.e. schools, day care facilities, or playgrounds). A violation of the “child safety zone” can result in the revocation of a sex offender’s probation or parole and, consequently, incarceration. This “child safety zone” lasts for as long as the sex offender is on community supervision, parole, or mandatory supervision. Similarly, the Texas Sex Offender Registration Program itself does not prohibit registered sex offenders from working in certain trades, occupations or professions.

However, this is where the “collateral consequences” conversation begins again. While the sex offender registration statute does not prohibit where a person can live or work, other state laws that regulate a particular trade, occupation or profession may bar sex offenders from working in the trade, profession or occupation. Likewise, private employers, neighborhood associations, and landlords can develop their own set of regulations which exclude registered sex offenders.

J. Length of time of juvenile sex offender registration

The duty to register expires ten years after the Respondent “completes the terms of the disposition.” The ten years does not start until discharged from TYC parole or discharged from adult or juvenile probation/supervision.

K. Penalty for Failure to Register

Before a person who will be subject to registration is released from jail or TYC, he will be informed of his registration requirements and the penalties for failure to comply. By this stage in the process, the person has likely reviewed the registration requirements with his attorney, as well as been questioned by the juvenile court about sex offender registration during the plea colloquy. The registration forms again explain the timelines of the registration requirements. Taken together, these repeated warnings make it difficult to defend a position that a respondent was not aware he was under an obligation to register.⁴

⁴ The other implication of the “collateral consequence” of registration is that if the trial court fails to admonish the juvenile about registration requirements, it does not affect the voluntariness of the plea.

For juveniles subject to sex offender registration, failure to register is a state jail felony as a ten-year period of registration is involved. For adults who must register for life or high risk offenders who must register every ninety days, the penalty jumps to a third degree or second degree felony.

L. Hindering Apprehension

It is a crime for a person to hinder apprehension of a person who is required to register and fails to comply with the registration requirements:

Section 38.05, Penal Code, is amended by amending Subsection (c) and adding Subsection (d) to read as follows:

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (d), an offense under this section is a Class A misdemeanor.

(d) An offense under this section is a felony of the third degree if the person who is harbored, concealed, provided with a means of avoiding arrest or effecting escape, or warned of discovery or apprehension is under arrest for, charged with, or convicted of a felony, including an offense under Section 62.102, Code of Criminal Procedure, or is in custody or detention for, is alleged in a petition to have engaged in, or has been adjudicated as having engaged in delinquent conduct that violates a penal law of the grade of felony, including an offense under Section 62.102, Code of Criminal Procedure, and the person charged under this section knew that the person they harbored, concealed, provided with a means of avoiding arrest or effecting escape, or warned of discovery or apprehension is under arrest for, charged with, or convicted of a felony, or is in custody or detention for, is alleged in a petition to have engaged in, or has been adjudicated as having engaged in delinquent conduct that violates a penal law of the grade of felony.

Does that mean that a parent who allows a child who has not registered to live in her home is harboring a fugitive before the child has ever been charged with a crime? Article 62.102 (a) states that “A person commits an offense if the person is required to register and fails to comply with any requirement of this chapter.” Is the offense committed once the registration date lapses? If so, does this make the hindering apprehension case possible if the parent knows that the child has not registered and yet allows him to continue living there?

I think this would be a pretty big stretch, but defense lawyers are paid to be paranoid.

III. PREVENTING SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION THROUGH PLEA NEGOTIATION

A. Negotiating With the State Prior to Filing a Petition

In cases where the respondent and the victim are family members, parents are in a difficult bind: if they fail to report an instance of sexual abuse, they are failing to protect the one child at the expense of another. On the other hand, where do you draw the distinction between sexual experimentation and sexual abuse? If a fourteen-year old plays “doctor” with his nine-year old cousin, is that indecency with a child by contact or sexual assault? What if the sexual contact began as experimentation and then gradually developed into more disconcerting behavior?

If a case like this is submitted for prosecutorial review, you may be able to request the prosecutor hold the case until the child can engage in treatment and counseling. If the family can appropriately deal with the child’s behaviors and a therapist can confirm that the situation is under control, there is less need for juvenile court intervention in what will ultimately be a family issue.

B. Propose a Plea to An Equally Serious But Non-registerable Offense

The easiest way to avoid registration is to sidestep the issue altogether. If one of the main concerns of the juvenile court system is for the child to be rehabilitated, what prevents a plea to a non-registerable offense with a condition of probation being successful completion of sex offender therapy? If the child is adjudicated for an offense that sounds ominous (deadly conduct, endangering a child) but avoids registration, the prosecutor may be more likely to agree.

Examples of offenses that do not trigger sex offender registration

- Assault
- Aggravated Assault with serious bodily injury
- Attempted Aggravated Assault with serious bodily injury
- Public Lewdness
- Indecent Exposure (1 adjudication only)
- Attempted indecent exposure
- Obscenity
- Possession or distribution of obscenity
- Display, Sale or distribution of harmful material to a minor
- Unlawful restraint (without affirmative finding that victim is less than 17)
- Unlawful transport
- Injury to a child
- Endangering a child
- Deadly conduct
- Enticing a child
- Criminal Mischief
- Criminal Trespass
- Disorderly conduct
- Harassment

C. Avoiding Registration Though Deferred Prosecution

A juvenile disposition that does not involve an adjudication under 53.03 (deferred prosecution) does not trigger registration requirements.

D. Plea Agreement & State Waives its Right to a Hearing (not conditioned as part of the plea agreement)

If the State agrees to waive its right to a hearing under Article 62.355, and it is not conditioned as part of a plea agreement, the court must exempt the respondent from registration.

E. Plea Agreement & State Waives its Right to a Hearing (conditioned as part of the plea agreement)

If the court accepts the plea agreement, then the juvenile is exempt from registration without a hearing. However, the court does not have to accept the plea agreement. If the court does not accept the plea bargain or requires a hearing, then the respondent has a right to withdraw the plea or proceed to a hearing on exemption.

F. Plea Agreement & State Agrees to Defer Registration

This is becoming the most common position by the State and the juvenile court because it allows registration to be used as a carrot or a stick depending upon the child's progress in sex offender therapy. While deferral is a short-term victory for the respondent, it is unclear how, when, and why the State could seek to move to revoke the deferral. While deferral is a far better alternative than registration, sex offender registration should not be used as a threat for non-compliance if it is truly a collateral consequence.

IV. EXEMPTION FROM SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION
("UNREGISTRATION")

If the State refuses to agree to exempt a respondent from registration, you must file a motion and have a hearing. Typically, the hearing on sex offender exemption will be held at the same time as the disposition hearing.

A. Juveniles eligible for Exemption

1. Any juvenile who would, upon adjudication, be subject to the registration requirement who has a pending adjudication for a "reportable conviction or adjudication."

2. Any child in the Texas Youth Commission who has not been released on parole (and who has not been registered as a result of a prior probation or adjudication in the same case).

3. Any child who was assessed a determinate sentence and who has been transferred to the Texas Department of Criminal Justice - Institutional Division (the adult prison system) and who has not yet been released on parole.

B. Motion and Hearing for Exemption

The procedure for exemption from registration is set forth in Article 62.351:

During or after disposition of a case under Section 54.04, Family Code, for adjudication of an offense for which registration is required under this chapter, the juvenile court on motion of the respondent shall conduct a hearing to determine whether the interests of the public require registration under this chapter. The motion may be filed and the hearing held regardless of whether the respondent is under 18 years of age. Notice of the motion and hearing shall be provided to the prosecuting attorney.

The hearing is without a jury and the burden of persuasion is on the respondent to show by a preponderance of evidence that:

- (1) that the protection of the public would not be increased by registration of the respondent under this chapter; or
- (2) that any potential increase in protection of the public resulting from registration of the respondent is clearly outweighed by the anticipated substantial harm to the respondent and the respondent's family that would result from registration under this chapter.

The court at the hearing may make its determination based on:

- (1) the receipt of exhibits;
- (2) the testimony of witnesses;
- (3) the representations of counsel for the parties; or
- (4) the contents of a social history report prepared by the juvenile probation department that may include the results of testing and examination of the respondent by a psychologist, psychiatrist, or counselor.

All written matter considered by the court shall be disclosed to all parties as provided by Sec. 54.04(b), Family Code.

C. The Four Options at the Conclusion of the Hearing

At the conclusion of the Motion to Exempt Sex Offender Registration, the juvenile court can issue an order for one of the following options:

1. Grant the Motion

The respondent is exempted from registration, but the State can appeal the juvenile court's decision under an abuse of discretion standard or whether the juvenile court committed procedural error.

A person who has an adjudication of delinquent conduct that would otherwise be reportable under Art. 62.001(5) does not have a reportable adjudication of delinquent conduct for purposes of this chapter if the juvenile court enters an order under this subchapter exempting the person from the registration requirements of this chapter.

If the juvenile court enters an order exempting a person from registration under this chapter, the respondent may not be required to register in this or any other state for the offense for which registration was exempted.

2. Defer decision on requiring registration until the respondent has completed treatment as a condition of probation or while committed to the Texas Youth Commission

If the court enters an order deferring its decision on requiring registration, the court retains discretion and jurisdiction to require, or exempt the respondent from, registration under this chapter at any time during the treatment or on the successful or unsuccessful completion of treatment, except that during the period of deferral, registration may not be required. Following successful completion of treatment, the respondent is exempted from registration under this chapter unless a hearing under this subchapter is held on motion of the state, regardless of whether the respondent is 18 years of age or older, and the court determines the interests of the public require registration. Not later than the tenth day after the date of the respondent's successful completion of treatment, the treatment provider shall notify the juvenile court and prosecuting attorney of the completion. Article 62.352(c).

Upon the State's motion and an evidentiary hearing, the Court can require registration based solely upon whether the interests of the public require registration. Unlike the initial inquiry of anticipated substantial harm that would result from registration, the Court does not revisit the balancing test. Furthermore, there are no guidelines as to when or why the State can file a motion for the juvenile court to require registration. Although one would assume that the State would only file a motion if the respondent was unsuccessful in treatment, there is no restriction in the statute. If the court or the elected District Attorney believes that it is always in the public's interest to require registration, agreeing to defer registration and then subsequently mandating registration is a statutorily permissible way around the balancing test.

While the legislature does not specifically address the right to appeal this decision, Professor Robert Dawson believes that neither the State nor the respondent have the right to appeal this decision. See ROBERT O. DAWSON, TEXAS JUVENILE LAW, p. 228 (Texas Juvenile Probation Commission, 6th ed. Sept. 2004) (“this right [to appeal] does not extend to less sweeping decisions refusing to excuse all registration in favor of deferred or non-public registration.”).

3. Require the respondent to register as a sex offender but restrict the public access to the information

If the respondent is required to register as a sex offender but the registration information is not public, it may still be accessed by law enforcement and criminal justice agencies, the Council on Sex Offender Treatment and public or private institutions of higher education. However, the information may not be posted on the Internet or released to the public. Article 62.352(d).

As discussed above, the respondent may not have a right to appeal this decision.

4. Deny the motion and require the juvenile to register as a sex offender

Under Article 62.357, the respondent may appeal the court’s ruling. The standard of review is whether the juvenile court committed procedural error or abused its discretion in requiring registration.

A better option may be to have the respondent proceed through sex offender treatment, obtain a successful evaluation, and then file a motion for deregistration. Before 2005 a respondent only had one shot, but the change to Article 62.353(c) allows two motions for deregistration to be filed.

V. DEREGISTRATION OF JUVENILES WHO ARE CURRENTLY REQUIRED TO REGISTER

A. Juveniles Eligible for Deregistration or Non-publication

1. Juveniles seeking relief from an in-state adjudication

A person who has registered as a sex offender for an adjudication of delinquent conduct, regardless of when the delinquent conduct or the adjudication for the conduct occurred, may file a motion in the adjudicating juvenile court for a hearing seeking exemption from registration or an order under Art. 62.352(b)(2) that the registration become nonpublic.

The person may file a motion under Subsection (a) in the original juvenile case regardless of whether the person, at the time of filing the motion, is 18 years of age or older.

2. Juveniles seeking relief from an out-of-state adjudication

Under Article 62.354, a person required to register or already registered as a sex offender in this state because of an out-of state adjudication of delinquent conduct may file in the juvenile court of the person's county of residence a petition under Article 62.351 for an order exempting the person from registration under this chapter. Upon receipt of a petition under Article 62.354, the juvenile court shall conduct a hearing and make a ruling as in other cases under Article 62.351.

A person required to register or already registered as a sex offender in this state because of an out-of state adjudication may also want to pursue a lawsuit under Article 62.003, which tasks DPS with the responsibility of determining whether an offense under the laws of another state, federal law, the laws of a foreign country or the Uniform Code of Military Justice is "substantially similar" to the elements of an offense under the laws of this state. The two landmark cases on this DPS v. Josue Garica, 327 S.W.3d 898 (Tex.App.-Austin 2010), which was handled by our office, and DPS v. Anonymous Adult, 382 S.W.3d 531 (Tex.App.-Austin 2012) and are attached to your materials.

Although Article 62.003 is not specific for juveniles, it allows any person required to register to be allowed to appeal a determination of substantial similarity in a district court in Travis County. The benefits of filing an appeal under Article 62.003 is two-fold. First, a person filing a lawsuit under this chapter requires that it be filed and heard in Travis County, as opposed to the county of the person's residence. Second, this analysis is a purely legal one and does not require that the juvenile prove any of the elements of Article 62.351. A sample Appeal under Article 62.003 that was successfully used in our office is attached to your materials.

B. Two chances for deregistration

A subsequent motion may be filed if a previous motion for deregistration under has been filed concerning the case.

C. List of agencies to receive notice

Like a petition for expunction of records, Article 62.353(d) requests a list of all public and private agencies and organizations, including public or private institutions of higher education, that possess sex offender registration information about the case. The motion for deregistration included on your CD includes a list of all the public and private entities that collect sex offender registration information.

D. The Three Options at the Conclusion of the Hearing

At the conclusion of the Motion to for Deregistration, the juvenile court can issue an order for one of the following options:

1. Grant the Motion

As set forth in Article 62.353(f)-(i), if the court grants a motion, the clerk of the court shall by certified mail, return receipt requested, send a copy of the order to the department, to each local law enforcement authority that the person has proved to the juvenile court has registration information about the person, and to each public or private agency or organization that the person has proved to the juvenile court has information about the person that is currently available to the public with or without payment of a fee. The clerk of the court shall by certified mail, return receipt requested, send a copy of the order to any other agency or organization designated by the person. The person shall identify the agency or organization and its address and pay a fee of twenty dollars ($20.00) to the court for each agency or organization the person designates.

In addition to disseminating the order, at the request of the person, the clerk of the court shall by certified mail, return receipt requested, send a copy of the order to each public or private agency or organization that at any time following the initial dissemination of the order gains possession of sex offender registration information pertaining to that person, if the agency or organization did not otherwise receive a copy of the order.

An order must require the recipient to conform its records to the court's order either by deleting the sex offender registration information or changing its status to nonpublic, as applicable. A public or private institution of higher education may not be required to delete the sex offender registration information under this subsection.

A private agency or organization that possesses sex offender registration information the agency or organization obtained from a state, county, or local governmental entity is required to conform the agency's or organization's records to the court's order on or before the thirtieth day after the date of the entry of the order. Unless the agency or organization is a public or private institution of higher education, failure to comply in that period automatically bars the agency or organization from obtaining sex offender registration information from any state, county, or local governmental entity, in the future.

A person who has an adjudication of delinquent conduct that would otherwise be reportable under Art. 62.001(5) does not have a reportable adjudication of delinquent conduct for purposes of this chapter if the juvenile court enters an order under this subchapter exempting the person from the registration requirements of this chapter.

If the juvenile court enters an order exempting a person from registration under this chapter, the respondent may not be required to register in this or any other state for the offense for which registration was exempted.

2. Require the respondent to register as a sex offender but restrict the public access to the information

3. Deny the Motion

While Article 62.357 explicitly allows for the State to appeal any order exempting registration under Chapter 62, the article does not mention a reciprocal right to appeal any order denying a motion for exemption of registration. Instead, the text of Article 62.357(b) appears to only permit the respondent to appeal an order denying a motion seeking exemption under Article 62.352 for juveniles that have never registered as a sex offender. Before the 2005 legislative changes, one court of appeals held that the absence of a specific right to appeal a final order prevented the respondent from appealing a motion to exempt registration. See Ex Parte McGregor, 145 S.W.3d 824 (Tex.App.-Dallas, 2004). Article 62.357(b) allows an appeal of an order requiring registration, but in a motion for deregistration the court is arguably addressing the exemption and not the order requiring registration. Furthermore, the article related to unregistration orders is completely separate from the article concerning deregistration orders. Because the statute only allows an appeal of a juvenile court order under Article 62.352(a), a respondent's only redress may be to represent the motion a second time.

E. The Difficulty of Removing Sex Offender Registration Information

With the advent of offshore internet companies, it has become increasingly difficult to enforce expunction and deregistration orders. If the company refuses to comply with the order, it is difficult - if not impossible - to enforce it. Furthermore, with the caching of outdated information on Google and Yahoo, even if the records are removed there are still old copies that may resurface on the internet. Finally, our office has encountered blatant disregard for deregistration orders as some of the companies that republish sex offender registration information claim a moral responsibility to let the public know of a respondent's offense. Representatives from these companies delighted in telling us that "they threw the order away" because our client would "always be a sex offender." Even with these hurdles, deregistration is still incredibly advantageous considering that most Internet searches for sex offenders are done by zip code and not by name.

VI. DEREGISTRATION FOR 17, 18, AND 19 YEAR OLDS

The legislature has created a limited exemption for young adults who were convicted and required to register for statutory rape under Article 62.301:

A. Eligibility for Exemption for Consensual Teenage Sexual Conduct

A person who is required to register only as a result of a single reportable conviction or adjudication, other than an adjudication of delinquent conduct; and that at the time of the offense the defendant was younger than nineteen years of age and the victim was at least thirteen years of age, and the conviction was based solely on the ages of the defendant and the victim at the time of the offense.

A person who was convicted or placed on deferred adjudication before Sept. 1, 2001, for an offense under Sec. 21.11, Sec. 22.011, 22.021 or 43.25, Penal Code may petition the court for an exemption. The court may consider the petition if the petition states and the court finds that the defendant would have been entitled to the entry of an affirmative finding under Art. 42.017 or Art. 42.12, Sec.5(g), had the conviction or placement on deferred adjudication community supervision occurred after Sept. 1, 2001.

B. Procedure

After a hearing on the petition, the court may issue an order exempting the person from registration if it appears by a preponderance of the evidence:

- (1) as presented by a registered sex offender treatment provider, that the exemption does not threaten public safety; and
- (2) that the person's conduct did not occur without the consent of the victim or intended victim.

C. Withdrawal of the Order of Exemption

An order exempting the person from registration does not expire, but the court shall withdraw the order if after the order is issued the person receives a reportable conviction or adjudication.

VII. STRATEGIES FOR WINNING THE HEARING TO EXCUSE SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION

A. Addressing the Burden of Proof

Under Article 62.352(b), the respondent has the burden of proof and must show by a preponderance of the evidence that the anticipated harm of registration “clearly outweighs” any potential increase in protection. One interpretation is that the statute is written so that the court should err on the side of exemption. The respondent does not have to prove actual harm, and almost anybody can imagine the anticipated harm that an adolescent would suffer should his picture be posted on the Internet as a sex offender.

However, an argument can be made that the actual burden of proof is closer to the clear and convincing evidence standard. Although Article 62.352(1)(b) declares the burden of proof to be by the preponderance of the evidence, Article 62.352(2) inserts the requirement that the harm must “clearly outweigh” public protection. Is it possible to prove that the harm clearly outweighs the protection by a preponderance of the evidence? If the term “clearly outweigh” refers to the quality of evidence and not the quantity, there is less of a conflict.

Ultimately, respondent will have an easier time proving anticipated harm than the State will have proving potential protection unless the respondent has a long history of sex offenses or a counselor or therapist testifies that he is not amenable to treatment.

Factors To Prove That The Protection Of The Public Would Not Be Increased By Sex Offender Registration

1. Contesting that the public is protected by registration

Factors related to the child’s age vis-à-vis an adult offender

- a. The child will be supervised at home
- b. The child will be supervised on probation
- c. The child will be supervised at school
- d. The child cannot drive
- e. The child will have no unsupervised contact with other minors

No evidence that registration increases public protection

- f. No scientific evidence to prove that public notification deters or reduces crime
- g. No scientific evidence that the public uses the registry and alters behavior accordingly
- h. The cost of maintaining the registry and diverting law enforcement to notification efforts shifts resources from other proven methods of crime prevention like education
- i. Provides a false sense of security

2. Evidence that respondent is not a threat to the public

MOTION FOR EARLY TERMINATION OF

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE PRESIDING:

COMES NOW _____ (“Mr. _____”), the Defendant in the above styled and numbered cause, by and through undersigned counsel, and makes this Motion for Early Termination of Obligation to Register Under Article 62.404 and for good cause shows the following:

I.
BACKGROUND

On June 22, 2001, Mr. _____ was charged with Indecency with a Child in the above-referenced case. See Exhibit A, Indictment. On April 25, 2002, Mr. _____ entered a plea was sentenced to the years deferred adjudication probation. See Exhibit B, Order of Deferred Adjudication; Community Supervision. On December 16, 2005, this Court granted Mr. _____’s Motion for Termination of Supervision Period, Dismissal and Discharge and modified his community supervision period to three years and six months and on that date terminated Mr. _____’s deferred adjudication probation and ordered that he “be discharged from community supervision, that the defendant’s plea be withdrawn and that this prosecution be dismissed.” See Exhibit C, Order.

LEGAL BASIS FOR TERMINATION
PURSUANT TO ARTICLE 62.404

In 2005, the Texas Legislature added article 62.404 (“Motion for Early Termination”), which provides as follows:

(a) A person required to register under this chapter who has requested and received an individual risk assessment under Article 62.403 may file with the trial court that sentenced the person for the reportable conviction or adjudication a motion for early termination of the person’s obligation to register under this chapter.

(b) A motion filed under this article must be accompanied by:

(1) a written explanation of how the reportable conviction or adjudication giving rise to the movant’s registration under this chapter qualifies as a reportable conviction or adjudication that appears on the list published under Article 62.402; and

(2) a certified copy of a written report detailing the outcome of an individual risk assessment evaluation conducted under Article 62.403(b)(1).

Id. art. 62.404 (West 2006). Article 62.403 (“Individual Risk Assessment”), to which article 62.404 refers, provides in relevant part:

(a) The [Council on Sex Offender Treatment] shall establish, develop, or adopt an individual risk assessment tool or a group of individual risk assessment tools that:

(1) evaluates the criminal history of a person required to register under this chapter; and

(2) seeks to predict:

(A) the likelihood that the person will engage in criminal activity that may result in the person receiving a second or subsequent reportable adjudication or conviction; and

(B) the continuing danger, if any, that the person poses to the community.

(b) On the written request of a person with a single reportable adjudication or conviction that appears on the list published under Article 62.402(b), the council shall:

(1) evaluate the person using the individual risk assessment tool or group of individual risk assessment tools established, developed, or adopted under Subsection (a); and

(2) provide to the person a written report detailing the outcome of an evaluation conducted under Subdivision (1).

(c) An individual risk assessment provided to a person under this subchapter is confidential and is not subject to disclosure under Chapter 552, Government Code. Id. art. 62.403 (West 2006).

III.

THE LEGISLATURE CREATED A PRESUMPTION FOR EARLY TERMINATION OF OBLIGATION TO REGISTER UNDER ARTICLE 62.404 TO QUALIFIED PERSONS WHO POSE A LOW RISK OF RE-OFFENDING

In 2005, the Texas Legislature made legislative findings that “[t]he sex offender registration statute has become too cumbersome and difficult to manage” and that H.B. 867 would allow certain persons to “undergo a risk assessment review at their expense and then get a hearing from the sentencing judge who will decide whether they should be deregistered.” See Exhibit D: Bill Analysis of H.B. 867 (Engrossed). The Legislative intent is clear: people who pose a low risk to the public should not be on the sex offender registry.

IV.

MR. _____ MEETS ALL QUALIFICATIONS UNDER CHAPTER 62 TO BE RELEASED FROM HIS OBLIGATION TO REGISTER

Mr. _____’s reportable conviction was for the offense of Indecency with a Child by Contact which occurred on April 9, 2001. This is the adjudication that gave rise to Mr. _____’s obligation to register pursuant to Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Chapter 62 and is on the list of reportable convictions or adjudications for which a person must register under this chapter for a period that exceeds the minimum required registration period under federal law. See Exhibit E: Texas Offenses Tiered Under the Federal Adam Walsh Act (confirming that an

On April 13, 2015, Mr. _____ underwent a psychosexual risk evaluation with _____, using the methodology required by the Council on Sex Offender Treatment for Licensed De-Registration Specialists. See Exhibit F: Certified Individual risk Assessment Evaluation Report. According to _____, “[s]ex offender treatment was instrumental in changing _____’s thoughts and behavior in a positive manner” and that “[n]one of Mr. _____’s risk ratings fall in the high-risk area, so Mr. _____ is a satisfactory candidate for deregistration.”

REQUESTED RELIEF

Movant respectfully requests:

1. The Court hold a hearing on the motion. See TEX.CODE CRIM. PROC. ART. 62.405(a)(2).
2. After holding such hearing on the motion, the Court grant Movant’s request for early termination of obligation to register under Article 62.404. See TEX.CODE CRIM. PROC. ART. 62.405(a)(2).
3. For any further relief to which Movant is entitled.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Movant prays the Court grant this Motion for Early Termination of Obligation to Register Under Article 62.404.

APPEAL OF DETERMINATION REGARDING SUBSTANTIALLY SIMILAR ELEMENTS OF OFFENSE UNDER TEXAS CODE OF CRIMINAL
PROCEDURE ARTICLE 62.003

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE OF SAID COURT:

COMES NOW Petitioner, _____, and moves this honorable Court under Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Article 62.003 to make a determination that Petitioner's prior conviction does not constitute a reportable conviction for purposes of sex offender registration under Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Article 62.001(5)(H). Petitioner files this Appeal of Determination Regarding Substantially Similar Elements of Offense Under Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Article 62.003 (this "Appeal") and respectfully states as follows:

I.

BACKGROUND

On October 21, 2005, Petitioner was charged with "_____. At the time of the offense, Petitioner was twenty-one years old (21) and _____ was seventeen (17) years old. While consensual sexual activity with a seventeen-year old is not a crime in Texas, in Oregon, “Contributing to the Sexual Delinquency of a Minor” is a Class A Misdemeanor in Oregon.¹ On December 13, 2005, Petitioner pled guilty and was sentenced to 36 months probation.²

Petitioner moved to Texas in 2007. Soon thereafter, on February 22, 2007, Petitioner was required by Respondent to register as a sex offender for his lifetime due to the Oregon conviction (hereinafter “the offense”). See Exhibit B, Pre-Release Notification Form, Texas Sex Offender Registration Program (Requiring Petitioner to Register as a Sex Offender for his Lifetime).

II.

APPLICABLE LAW

In deciding whether an out-of-state conviction should qualify for sex offender registration, a “reportable conviction or adjudication” includes:

a violation of the laws of another state, federal law, the laws of a foreign country, or the Uniform Code of Military Justice for or based on the violation of an offense containing elements that are substantially similar to the elements of an offense listed under Paragraph (A), (B), (C), (D), (E), (G), or (J), but not if the violation results in a deferred adjudication . . .

Texas Code Crim. Pro. Art. 62.001(5)(H).

For such determinations, the Texas Code of Criminal of Criminal Procedure Article 62.003 provides as follows:

(a) For the purposes of this chapter, the department is responsible for determining whether an offense under the laws of another state, federal law, the laws of a foreign country, or the Uniform Code of Military Justice contains elements that are substantially similar to the elements of an offense under the laws of this state.

² Subsequently, Petitioner’s probation was revoked and he was sentenced to 180 days with credit for time served.

(b) The department annually shall provide or make available to each prosecuting attorney's office in this state:

(1) the criteria used in making a determination under Subsection (a); and

(2) any existing record or compilation of offenses under the laws of another state, federal law, the laws of a foreign country, and the Uniform Code of Military Justice that the department has already determined to contain elements that are substantially similar to the elements of offenses under the laws of this state.

(c) An appeal of a determination made under this article shall be brought in a district court in Travis County.

The statute in Oregon which is the basis for registration, Contributing to the Sexual Delinquency of a Minor, criminalizes as follows:

1) A person 18 years of age or older commits the crime of contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor if:

(a) Being a male, he engages in sexual intercourse with a female under 18 years of age; or

(b) Being a female, she engages in sexual intercourse with a male under 18 years of age; or

(c) The person engages in deviate sexual intercourse with another person under 18 years of age or causes that person to engage in deviate sexual intercourse.

(2) Contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor is a Class A misdemeanor.

In comparison, Section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code criminalizes myriad sexual contact with a “child” who is a “person younger than 17 years of age who is not the spouse of the actor.” See Texas Penal Code 22.011(a)(2); Texas Penal Code 22.011(c)(1).

The Court of Criminal Appeals has held the elements of another state's law to be substantially similar to the elements of an offense . . . when the elements of the other

PROCEDURE ARTICLE 62.003 – Page 3

_____ v. Texas Department of Public Safety

State's law parallel the elements of a single Texas offense. Prudholm v. State, 2008 WL 4670253, 3 (Tex.App.—Houston [1st Dist.] 2008) (holding that the California sexual battery offense does not contain elements substantially similar to one of the Texas offenses for purposes of enhancement under 12.42(c)(2)), citing Ex parte White, 211 S.W.3d 316, 318 (Tex.Crim.App.2007). In Ex parte White, the Court held that elements of Delaware's statute against unlawful sexual contact in the second degree were substantially similar to the elements of the Texas offense of indecency with a child. Ex parte White, 211 S.W.3d at 318. “The Court of Criminal Appeals did not emphasize the point [in Ex parte White], but it is significant that a person guilty of the Delaware law would also be guilty under the Texas law.” Prudholm, 2008 WL 4670253 at 3.

Under the Supreme Court's decision in Lawrence v. Texas, adults maintain a protected liberty interest to engage in certain consensual sexual intimacy in the home, a fundamental interest calling for heightened scrutiny in judicial review of legislative decision making, when an action alleges a violation of substantive due process. 539 U.S. 558 (2003). The Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment “is essentially a direction that all persons similarly situated should be treated alike.” Cleburne v. Cleburne Living Center, Inc., 473 U. S. 432, 439 (1985); see also Plyler v. Doe, 457 U. S. 202, 216 (1982).

III.

ARGUMENT

Contributing to the Sexual Delinquency of a Minor is not “substantially similar” to any registerable offense in Texas. In fact, it is undisputed that, in Texas, not only

_____ v. Texas Department of Public Safety

would Petitioner's conviction not be a "reportable conviction," it would not even constitute a criminal offense. Texas has made a legislative determination that sex between two adults seventeen (17) or older does not violate the law. Under our registration scheme, our legislature has also determined that a person is not a danger to which the public must be warned about if you have consensual sex with a person who is 17 years old.

Consequently, because the offense for which Petitioner is being required to register as a sex offender for his lifetime is not even a crime in Texas, it defies logic to maintain that the offense is "substantially similar" to any registerable offense in Texas. Moreover, requiring Petitioner to register for conduct that no other Texas citizen would have to register is violative of both the state and federal Constitution.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Petitioner _____ prays that the Court make a determination that Petitioner's prior conviction does not constitute a reportable conviction for purposes of sex offender registration under Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Article 62.001(5)(H).

On _____, 2009, Petitioner in the above entitled and numbered cause appealed the determination regarding substantially similar elements of offense under Texas code of Criminal Procedure Article 62.003.

The Court is of the opinion that Petitioner's Oregon conviction for Contributing to the Sexual Delinquency of a Minor under Oregon Revised Statutes 163.435 is not a reportable conviction or adjudication under Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Article 62.001(5)(H).

It is therefore hereby ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that Petitioner's Oregon conviction for Contributing to the Sexual Delinquency of a Minor under Oregon Revised Statutes 163.435 is not substantially similar to the Texas offense of Sexual Assault of a Child under Texas Penal Code 22.011 in Petitioner's case.

Appellant,
v.
Josue GARCIA, Appellee.

No. 03-09-00394-CV.
Dec. 7, 2010.

Synopsis

Background: Alleged sex offender sought judicial review of determination of the Department of Public Safety that he was required to register as a sex offender for life pursuant to the Texas Sex Offender Registration Act (SORA), based on his Oregon conviction for having contributed to the sexual delinquency of a minor. The District Court, Travis County, Derwood Johnson, J., reversed Department's determination. Department appealed.

[Holding:] The Court of Appeals, Jan P. Patterson, J., held that as a matter of first impression, alleged sex offender's Oregon conviction did not contain elements substantially similar to the Texas penal code for sexual assault, and thus, offender's conviction was not a reportable or registerable offense under SORA.

Alleged sex offender’s Oregon conviction for contributing to sexual delinquency of a minor did not contain elements substantially similar to Texas penal code for sexual assault, and thus, offender’s conviction was not a reportable or registerable offense under Texas Sex Offender Registration Act (SORA); despite significant overlap between activity covered by Oregon statute and conduct that was criminalized in analogous Texas statute, offender, in having engaged in consensual sexual conduct with his 17-year-old girlfriend, engaged in conduct that was criminal under Oregon statute, which criminalized sexual conduct with persons aged 17, but Texas statute required victims to be younger than age 17. OPINION

JAN P. PATTERSON, Justice.

Appellant Texas Department of Public Safety appeals from a district court order in favor of Josue Garcia reversing the Department's determination that Garcia was required to register as a sex offender for life pursuant to the Texas Sex Offender Registration Act (SORA). See generally Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. arts. 62.001–408 (West 2006 & West Supp.2010). In two issues, the Department complains that the district court erred (i) in determining that the Oregon statute under which Garcia was convicted is not substantially similar to a SORA offense and (ii) in considering the individual facts and circumstances of Garcia's conviction in its determination. For the reasons that follow, we affirm the district court's order.

FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

In 2005, appellee Josue Garcia, who was 21 years old at the time, was charged with the offense of contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor in Oregon. See Or.Rev.Stat. § 163.435 (2010). Under the Oregon statute, the age of consent is 18. 901 Id. Garcia contends, and the Department does not dispute, that the victim was Garcia's 17-year-old girlfriend and that the act forming the basis of the charge was consensual. Garcia pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 36 months probation. His probation was subsequently revoked, and he was sentenced to 180 days in jail with credit for time served.

In 2007, Garcia moved to Texas. Soon thereafter, the Department determined that Garcia was required to register as a sex offender annually for his lifetime based on the Department's previous determination, pursuant to its statutory duty under articles 62.001 and 62.003 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, that the elements of the Oregon statute under which Garcia was convicted are "substantially similar" to those of an offense identified as reportable under SORA. See id.; Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. arts. 62.001\(5\)\(H\) (West Supp.2010), 62.003 (West 2006); see also Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.101 (West 2006) (lifetime registration unless exception applies). Pursuant to articles 62.004 and 62.053 of the code of criminal procedure, the Department then provided Garcia with notice of the requirement to register. See Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. arts. 62.004, .053 (West Supp.2010).

In 2009, Garcia appealed the Department's determination to the Travis County district court pursuant to article 62.003\(c\) of the code of criminal procedure. See id. art. 62.003\(c\). In his appeal, Garcia argued that the elements of the Oregon statute under which he was convicted are not substantially similar to the elements of section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code and asked the district court to find that his prior conviction did not constitute a reportable conviction for purposes of sex offender registration under article 62.001\(5\)\(H\) of the code of criminal procedure. See id. art. 62.001\(5\)\(H\); Or.Rev.Stat. § 163.435; Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011 (West Supp.2010).

At a hearing, the district court heard argument of counsel and considered Garcia's evidence, which consisted of a copy of the Department's sex offender registry entry for Garcia, section 163.435 of the Oregon Revised Statutes, and section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code. The Department offered no evidence. Following the hearing, the district court entered an order finding that Garcia's conviction under section 163.435 of the Oregon Revised Statutes is not a reportable conviction or adjudication under article 62.001\(5\)\(H\) of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure in that it is not substantially similar to Texas Penal Code section 22.011. The court then ordered that Garcia's conviction under Oregon Revised Statutes section 163.435 is not substantially similar to an offense under section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code, that Garcia be relieved of the duty to register as a sex offender in Texas, and that the Department remove Garcia from its sex offender registry. This appeal followed.

ANALYSIS

[1] [2] [3] In two issues, the Department complains that the district court erred (i) in determining that an offense under section 163.435 of the Oregon Revised Statutes is not substantially similar to an offense identified in SORA and (ii) in considering facts and circumstances of Garcia's conviction. Because the Department complains that the district court erred in applying provisions of the code of criminal procedure, its issues involve matters of statutory construction, which we review de novo. See Texas Mun. Power Agency v. Public Util. Comm'n, 253 S.W.3d 184, 192 (Tex.2007). Our primary objective is to give effect to the legislature's intent as expressed in the 902 statute's language. See Tex. Gov't Code Ann. § 312.005 (West 2005); Galbraith Eng'g Consultants, Inc. v. Pochucha, 290 S.W.3d 863, 867 (Tex.2009). We rely on the plain meaning of the text unless a different meaning is supplied by legislative definition or is apparent from the context, or the plain meaning leads to absurd results. See City of Rockwall v. Hughes, 246 S.W.3d 621, 625–26 (Tex.2008). We determine legislative intent from the entire act, not from isolated portions. 20801, Inc. v. Parker, 249 S.W.3d 392, 396 (Tex.2008). We also presume that the legislature intended a just and reasonable result, see Tex. Gov't Code Ann. § 311.021(3) (West 2005); Presidio Indep. Sch. Dist. v. Scott, 309 S.W.3d 927, 930 (Tex.2010), and we consider the consequences of a particular construction. See Tex. Gov't Code Ann. § 311.023(5) (West 2005); Lexington Ins. Co. v. Strayhorn, 209 S.W.3d 83, 88 (Tex.2006).

The Texas Sex Offender Registration Act

The Texas Legislature enacted SORA in 1991, requiring persons convicted of certain “reportable” sex offenses to register with the local law enforcement authorities in the municipalities in which they reside. See Sex Offender Registration Act, 72d Leg., R.S., ch. 572, § 1, 1991 Tex. Gen. Laws 2029 (current version at Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. arts. 62.001–408). The offense of sexual assault under section 22.011 of the penal code is listed in SORA as a reportable offense. See Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.001(5)(A); Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011. In 1995, the legislature amended the definition of reportable offenses to include convictions “under the laws of another state for an offense containing elements that are substantially similar to the elements of an offense listed” in SORA as reportable. Act of May 19, 1995, 74th Leg., R.S., ch. 258, § 2, 1995 Tex. Gen. Laws 2197, 2197

(current version at Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.001\(5\)\(H\)). The statute does not define “substantially similar.” See Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.001. The Department is responsible for determining whether the elements of an out-of-state offense are substantially similar to the elements of a reportable SORA offense. See id. art. 62.003(a). Appeals of the Department's determinations must be brought in district court in Travis County. Id. art. 62.003(c). As a matter of first impression, we consider whether section 163.435 of the Oregon Revised Statutes is substantially similar to an offense listed as reportable in SORA, pursuant to article 62.001\(5\)\(H\) of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, and whether the Department and reviewing courts may consider the facts and circumstances of the offender's prior conviction in determining substantial similarity.

Substantial Similarity

In its first issue, the Department contends that the elements of the Oregon statute under which Garcia was convicted are substantially similar to the elements of two SORA offenses, sexual assault under section 22.011 of the penal code and sexual performance by a child under section 43.25 of the penal code. See Or.Rev.Stat. § 163.435; Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011, § 43.25 (West Supp.2010). The record shows, however, that Garcia appealed only the Department's determination of substantial similarity between the Oregon statute and section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code and the Department defended that determination only. The Department offered no evidence of any determination it made of substantial similarity between the Oregon statute and either section 22.011 or section 43.25 of the penal code. The Department's notice to Garcia does not identify 903 the offense or offenses for which Garcia is required to register; in fact, the space in the notice for stating the “Registering Offense (Penal Code)” is blank. Thus, the record shows that section 22.011 of the penal code was the only Texas statute contained in the pleadings, offered into evidence, addressed by either party at the hearing, or ruled on by the district court.

[4] The Department argues that its assertion on appeal that the Oregon statute is similar to a second SORA offense is not a new argument but an additional example of the same legal theory. We disagree. The district court did not consider or make a determination regarding substantial similarity between the Oregon statute in issue and section 43.25 of the Texas Penal Code, and we cannot reverse the district court on an issue not brought before it. The Department has waived the argument that section 163.435 of the Revised Oregon Statutes is substantially similar to section 43.25 of the penal code by not raising it in the district court. See Dreyer v. Greene, 871 S.W.2d 697, 698 (Tex.1993) (“As a rule, a claim ... must have been asserted in the trial court in order to be raised on appeal.”); see also Tex.R.App. P. 33.1; In re A.S., 298 S.W.3d 834, 836–37 (Tex.App.-Amarillo 2009, no pet.) (party waived reliance on additional provision of family code by not mentioning provision to trial court).

[5] We turn, then, to the Department’s contention that the trial court erred in finding that the Oregon statute under which Garcia was convicted is not substantially similar to section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code. Section 163.435 of the Oregon Revised Statutes provides in relevant part as follows:

(1) A person 18 years of age or older commits the crime of contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor if:

(a) Being a male, he engages in sexual intercourse with a female under 18 years of age.

Or.Rev.Stat. § 163.435.¹

Section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code provides in relevant part as follows:

*904 (a) A person commits an offense if the person:

....

(2) intentionally or knowingly:

(A) causes the penetration of the anus or sexual organ of a child by any means;

(B) causes the penetration of the mouth of a child by the sexual organ of the actor;

(C) causes the sexual organ of a child to contact or penetrate the mouth, anus, or sexual organ of another person, including the actor;

(D) causes the anus of a child to contact the mouth, anus, or sexual organ of another person, including the actor; or

(E) causes the mouth of a child to contact the anus or sexual organ of another person, including the actor.

(c) In this section:

(1) “Child” means a person younger than 17 years of age.

Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011.

In asserting that the Oregon crime is not sufficiently like the Texas crime of sexual assault to meet the “substantial similarity” inquiry, Garcia focuses on the maximum victim age designations in the two offenses. While the Oregon offense criminalizes sexual conduct with persons under the age of 18, the Texas provision applies only to sexual conduct with persons under the age of 17. See Or.Rev.Stat. § 163.435(1)(a); Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011(c)(1). Thus, it is possible to violate the Oregon statute with a person less than 18 years of age without violating the Texas statute. Garcia argues that, because the crime he was convicted of in Oregon would not have been a crime in Texas, the Oregon offense does not contain elements that are substantially similar to a Texas “offense” under article 62.001(5)(H) of the code of criminal procedure. See Or.Rev.Stat. § 163.435(1)(a); Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011(c)(1); Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. § 62.001(5)(H).

In support of this argument, Garcia cites cases interpreting section 12.42 of the Texas Penal Code, which contains language parallel to that in article 62.001(5)(H) of the code of criminal procedure. See Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 12.42 (West Supp.2010). Section 12.42(c)(2)(B)(v) provides for enhanced sentencing if a defendant has previously been convicted of a crime “under the laws of another state containing elements that are substantially similar to the elements of” certain listed offenses. See id. § 12.42(c)(2)(B)(v). In particular, Garcia relies on language in Prudholm v. State, 274 S.W.3d 236 (Tex.App.-Houston [1st Dist.] 2008, pet. ref’d). In Prudholm, the court of appeals commented on Ex parte White, 211 S.W.3d 316, 318 (Tex.Crim.App.2007), in which the court of criminal appeals held that elements of a Delaware statute were substantially similar to a Texas statute. Prudholm, 274 S.W.3d at 240. The Prudholm court observed that, although “[t]he Court of Criminal Appeals did not emphasize the point, ... it is significant that a person guilty of the Delaware law would also be guilty under the Texas law.” Id. Applying this reasoning to the facts of his conviction, Garcia contends that because he could not have been prosecuted in Texas, the two offenses are not substantially similar.

The Department contends that its statutory duty is to look only to the elements of the offenses and that, based strictly on the elements of each offense, the Oregon offense in issue is substantially similar to the *905 Texas crime of sexual assault under section 22.011 of the penal code. Although acknowledging that the Oregon statute includes 17-year-old victims while the Texas statute does not, the Department argues that both statutes identify victims up to 16 years of age, making them substantially similar. The Department also argues that section 12.42 of the penal code is criminal and punitive in nature, while SORA is intended to accomplish the goals of notification and protection of the public, and that consequently the rationales and holdings of the cases applying section 12.42 are inapplicable. The Department further contends that SORA does not authorize an appeal to challenge the appropriateness of a determination of substantial similarity on a case by case basis and that this Court must look only to the elements of each law without considering the facts and circumstances of Garcia's conviction.

We are not fully persuaded by the reasoning of either party. While we agree with the Department that the cases interpreting penal code section 12.42 are not controlling, we find the language in Prudholm instructive. Reaching the inverse of the Prudholm court's conclusion, we find it significant that a person guilty of section 163.435 of the Oregon Revised Statutes may not be guilty under section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code.² See id.; Or.Rev.Stat. § 163.435; Tex. Penal Code § 22.011. Thus, we cannot agree with the Department that its inquiry, and ours, are limited to the elements of the offenses as set forth in the statutes and that neither the Department nor we can consider the facts and circumstances of Garcia's foreign conviction. On the other hand, although we agree with Garcia that the facts and circumstances of his conviction should be considered, we do not believe that such an 906 inquiry is called for in all cases involving a conviction under section 163.435 of the Oregon Revised Statutes.

^[6] ^[7] To construe the relevant provisions of the code of criminal procedure to require a person whose conduct does not constitute criminal behavior in this state to register as a sex offender for life would yield an unjust and unreasonable result—one we presume the legislature did not intend. See Hernandez v. Ebrom, 289 S.W.3d 316, 321 (Tex.2009) (citing Tex. Gov't Code Ann. § 311.021\(3\)). We may not subject a citizen to an interpretation that would yield that result until the legislature has spoken with a clear voice. Rather, presuming that a just and reasonable result is intended, see Tex. Gov't Code Ann. § 311.021(3); Presidio Indep. Sch. Dist., 309 S.W.3d at 930, and considering the consequences of the Department's construction, see Tex. Gov't Code Ann. § 311.023(5); Lexington, 209 S.W.3d at 88, we conclude that the "substantially similar" test in article 62.001\(5\)\(H\) of the code of criminal procedure requires registration whenever an individual is convicted of criminal conduct in a foreign jurisdiction that, if committed in Texas, would have amounted to a registerable "offense."

^[8] This construction necessarily requires that the Department compare the elements of the out-of-state offense with the analogous Texas offense to identify points of overlap. When the Department finds that the offenses cover the same conduct, the analysis need proceed no further because it will be evident that the foreign conviction is substantially similar to the Texas offense for SORA purposes. However, in circumstances in which the offenses overlap but the foreign offense also criminalizes conduct that is not covered under the Texas offense, the Department must review the conduct underlying the foreign conviction to determine if that conduct is, in fact, within the scope of the Texas offense.³ If it is, then the foreign conviction is a registerable offense under SORA's substantially similar test.

^[9] In this case, comparison of the elements of the two offenses reveals that there is significant overlap between the activity covered by the Oregon statute concerning contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor and the conduct that is criminalized in the analogous Texas offense. However, because the Oregon statute covers some activity—sexual conduct with persons aged 17—not encompassed in the Texas offense, review of the conduct underlying Garcia's Oregon conviction is necessary. Here, it is undisputed that Garcia engaged in consensual sexual conduct with his 17-year-old girlfriend and therefore engaged in conduct that was criminal under the Oregon statute, but not under the Texas statute.⁴ Therefore, Garcia's 907 conviction is not a reportable or registerable offense under SORA, and the district court did not err in finding that the Oregon and Texas statutes are not substantially similar and in relieving Garcia of the duty to register. We overrule the Department's first issue.

Consideration of Facts Particular to Garcia's Offense

In its second issue, the Department complains that the district court erred when or to the extent it considered the facts particular to Garcia's offense. We find no evidence in the record, and the Department cites none, showing that the district court took into account the facts and circumstances of Garcia's Oregon conviction. However, in light of our holding, even if the record showed that the district court did consider the facts particular to Garcia's offense, we would conclude that it was not error to do so. We overrule the Department's second issue.

CONCLUSION

Having overruled both of the Department's issues, we affirm the order of the district court.

¹ The parties dispute whether Garcia's conviction required him to register as a sex offender in Oregon. Garcia argues that, under sections 181.830 and 181.832 of the Oregon Revised Statutes, on the facts of his case, he was not required to register unless the state proved he did not meet eligibility requirements for nonregistration or Garcia and the district attorney stipulated he was required to report. See Or.Rev.Stat. §§ 181.830, .832 (2010). The Department contends that section 181.830, which provides that persons otherwise required to register are not required to do so if they meet certain eligibility requirements, does not apply to Garcia because his conviction preceded the effective date of the section. The Department further contends that, even if section 181.830 applies, Garcia was required to register unless the court made certain findings, and there is "no reliable evidence in this record demonstrating that those necessary findings could not have been made." See id. §§ 181.830, .832, .833.

We disagree with the Department's contention that section 181.830 does not apply to Garcia. See id. § 181.830 (person currently reporting no longer required to report if certain conditions met). Moreover, under our reading of sections 181.830, 181.832, and 181.833, Garcia had the burden to seek relief from the duty to register, the state had the duty to prove he did not meet the eligibility requirements, and the court was required to grant the relief unless the state proved Garcia did not meet the eligibility requirements or he and the district attorney stipulated he was required to report. See id. §§ 181.830, .832, .833. However, neither party produced any evidence regarding registration in Oregon. Had Garcia shown at the hearing that he was not required to register in Oregon, the Department's determination would create the anomalous situation in which a defendant was required to register in Texas for a conviction that was neither registerable in Oregon nor an "offense" here, creating an extraordinary burden on the defendant in addition to a criminal conviction. Because the record is silent as to whether Garcia met the eligibility requirements or requested relief from registration or whether any such relief was granted, however, we do not consider this factor.

² We also note that the majority of courts that have found substantial similarity under section 12.42 of the Texas Penal Code have done so when the conduct forming the basis of the foreign conviction would also be a crime in Texas. See Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 12.42\(c\)\(2\)\(B\)\(v\) (West Supp.2010). At least one other court interpreting section 12.42 expressly noted that the conduct giving rise to the foreign conviction would also have been a crime in Texas. See Hulse v. State, No. 06-03-00122-CR, 2004 WL 2002579, at *3, 2004 Tex.App. LEXIS 8180, at *7 (Tex.App.-Texarkana Sept. 9, 2004, pet. ref'd) (mem.op.) ("We hold this description [of the conduct] is sufficient to demonstrate that the Arkansas offense was substantially similar to the Texas offense of sexual assault—and that it could have been charged as sexual assault if committed in Texas.").

Other courts have implicitly based their holdings, at least in part, on the fact that the conduct in question would be criminal in Texas. See Ex parte White, 211 S.W.3d 316, 318 (Tex.Crim.App.2007) (offenses substantially similar where age of consent 16 under foreign statute and 17 under Texas statute); Cross v. (upholding trial court's determination of substantial similarity where age of consent 16 under foreign statute and 17 under Texas statute). We have found no cases interpreting [section 12.42 of the penal code, and the parties have pointed us to none, in which a foreign offense was determined to be substantially similar to a Texas offense when the conduct forming the basis of the foreign conviction would not constitute a crime in this state.

³ The Department contends that it "would be impossible without a full blown due process hearing" to consider the individual facts and circumstances of any given case because often the factual allegations, including the age of the victim, are not verifiable from the face of the judgment and the Department must then rely on the offender's representations. However, there is nothing to preclude the Department from contacting authorities in the state in which the conviction was obtained and/or obtaining additional documents to determine any missing relevant facts, and in light of the onerous burden of lifetime registration as a sex offender, such an effort on the part of the Department would seem appropriate. We do not find this argument persuasive.

- 4 The Department contends that it relied on Garcia's verbal report as to the age of the victim, which may not be reliable, and that it did not and does not dispute the age of the victim because it is irrelevant to the outcome of this case. Nonetheless, the Department relied on Garcia's statement, cited the age Garcia provided in its sex offender registry, did not dispute the victim's age in the district court proceeding, and does not now dispute it. Thus, the record reflects that the victim was 17 years old.

The elements of defendant’s Massachusetts conviction for indecent assault and battery on a person over 14 years of age were not substantially similar to the Texas offense of sexual assault, and thus defendant was not required to register as a sex offender in Texas based on his Massachusetts conviction; the “indecent touching” of clothed or unclothed parts of the anatomy encompassed by the Massachusetts offense differed significantly from the “contact or penetration” of a person’s “anus” or “sexual organ” required for the Texas offense, the Massachusetts statute was designed to protect against, and punish, unwanted, indecent touching while the Texas statute protected against the severe physical and psychological trauma of rape, and the offenses had different ranges of punishment. For a foreign statute to be substantially similar to a reportable Sex Offender Registration Act (SORA) offense, the elements being compared must display a high degree of likeness, but may be less than identical. Vernon's Ann.Texas C.C.P. arts. 62.001–62.408.

J. WOODFIN JONES, Chief Justice.

The Texas Department of Public Safety (“DPS”) appeals from a trial court judgment in favor of the appellee, an anonymous adult Texas resident, reversing the DPS’s determination that the appellee is required to register as a sex offender pursuant to the Texas Sex Offender Registration Act (SORA), Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. arts. 62.001–62.408 (West 2006 & Supp.2011). On appeal, the DPS complains that the trial court erred by (1) excluding a police report that recounted the victim’s allegations against the appellee and (2) determining that the elements of the Massachusetts statute under which the appellee was convicted are not substantially similar to a SORA reportable offense. We will affirm the district court’s judgment.

FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

The relevant facts in this case are undisputed. In 1993 the appellee, then 22 years old, was convicted in Massachusetts for “indecent assault and battery on a person over fourteen years of age.” See Mass. Gen. Laws Ann. ch. 265, § 13H.¹ He received a probated sentence and is required to register as a sex offender under Massachusetts law until 2015, unless earlier termination of the reporting requirement is granted by the Massachusetts Sex Offender Registry Board. See id. ch. 6, § 178C, D, F, G.

In 2006 the appellee moved to Texas and became a licensed emergency medical technician. From 2007 to 2010, the appellee applied for firefighter positions in several Texas cities and disclosed his 1993 Massachusetts conviction in his applications. At the request of one of his prospective employers, he provided additional documentation related to the Massachusetts conviction.

Shortly thereafter, the DPS notified the appellee that he was required to register as a sex offender in Texas based on his Massachusetts conviction, stating that the elements of the Massachusetts crime are “substantially similar” to the elements of the Texas offense of “sexual assault,” which is a reportable conviction under SORA with a lifetime registration requirement. See Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.001\(5\)\(A\), \(H\) (defining reportable convictions to include convictions under other states’ laws with elements “substantially similar” to Texas offense of sexual assault), .001(6)(A) (defining “sexually violent offenses” to include sexual assault under section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code), .003(a) (West 2006) (granting DPS authority to determine whether elements of offenses are “substantially similar”), .101(a)(1) (West Supp.2012) (prescribing length of registration requirement for “sexually violent” offenses); Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011 \(West 2012\) (sexual assault statute). Appellee complied with the registration requirement, but also appealed the DPS’s determination to the district court in Travis County. See Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.003\(c\) (West 2006) (requiring appeals of DPS's determinations to be filed in Travis County district court).

In cross-motions for summary judgment, the parties joined issue regarding whether *533 the elements of the Massachusetts statute are substantially similar to the elements of Texas offenses that are reportable under SORA. The DPS alleged that, “depending on the context,” a violation of the Massachusetts indecent assault and battery law would be substantially similar to several reportable Texas offenses—specifically, sexual assault, indecency with a child, and attempts at either of those crimes. See id. art. 62.001\(5\)\(A\), \(G\), \(H\); see also Tex. Penal Code Ann. §§ 15.01 (criminal attempt), 21.11 (indecency with child), 22.011 (sexual assault) (West 2011). To establish that the context of appellee's crime satisfies the elements of the foregoing offenses, the DPS attempted to introduce into evidence a police report that recounted the victim's allegations against the appellee in significant detail; the DPS did not introduce any other documentation, such as jury findings, stipulations, statements by the appellee, or other evidence of adjudicated or undisputed facts. The appellee moved to strike the police report on relevancy, hearsay, and authentication grounds. The trial court granted the motion without stating the basis for its ruling. The court also contemporaneously granted the appellee's motion for summary judgment and denied the DPS's motion for summary judgment. The court did not disclose the basis for its ruling, and the DPS's motion for new trial was overruled by operation of law. This appeal followed.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

^[1] Summary judgment is proper if the movant establishes that there is no genuine issue of material fact and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. See Tex.R. Civ. P. 166a\(c\); Southwestern Elec. Power Co. v. Grant, 73 S.W.3d 211, 215 (Tex.2002). In our de novo review of a summary judgment, we indulge every reasonable inference and resolve any doubts in the nonmovant's favor. Id. When, as here, both parties move for summary judgment and the district court grants one motion and denies the other, we review the summary-judgment evidence presented by both sides, determine all questions presented, and render the judgment the trial court should have rendered. Texas Workers' Comp. Comm'n v. Patient Advocates, 136 S.W.3d 643, 648 (Tex.2004).

DISCUSSION

^[2] An individual with a “reportable conviction” for certain offenses of a sexual nature must register with the local law enforcement authority in any municipality where the person resides or intends to reside for more than seven days. See Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.051\(a\) (West Supp.2011). The Texas Code of Criminal Procedure states that a “reportable conviction” that requires registration as a sex offender includes “a violation of the laws of another state ... for or based on the violation of an offense containing elements that are substantially similar to the elements of [a reportable Texas offense].”²² Id. art. 62.001\(5\)\(H\). Unless a court grants an early termination of the reporting requirement, the standard reporting period is ten years from the date *534 the person is released from a penal institution or is discharged from community supervision, whichever is later. Id. art. 62.101\(c\) (West Supp.2011). For convictions of more serious offenses, however, including those defined as “sexually violent offenses,” the reporting requirement is for the lifetime of the offender. Id. art. 62.101\(a\). By definition, “sexually violent offenses” include indecency with a child, sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault, and other serious sex-related offenses committed by a person older than seventeen years of age. Id. art. 62.001\(6\). Also included in the definition are offenses under the laws of another state that contain elements that are substantially similar to the elements of Texas offenses that are sexually violent offenses. Id.

In the present case, the DPS contends that the elements of the Massachusetts crime of “indecent assault and battery on a person over fourteen years of age” are substantially similar to the Texas offenses of sexual assault, indecency with a child, and attempts of either of those crimes, depending on the context. See Mass. Gen. Laws Ann. ch. 265, § 13H. According to the DPS, the facts and circumstances underlying the appellee's conviction here—as reflected in the victim's statement in the excluded police report—provide the context that satisfies the substantial similarity requirement. The DPS's theory turns in part on the undisputed fact that “indecent assault and battery on a person over fourteen years of age” is a lesser-included offense of rape under Massachusetts law, see, e.g., Commonwealth v. Thomas, 401 Mass. 109, 514 N.E.2d 1309, 1316 (1987), and the Texas sexual assault statute is a rape statute. See, e.g., Reyes v. State, 119 S.W.3d 844, 847 (Tex.App.-San Antonio 2003, no pet.). The essence of the DPS's argument is that conviction of a lesser-included offense equates to a greater offense for purposes of SORA's reporting and registration requirement if the actual allegations—whether proven or not—would satisfy the elements of the greater offense. The DPS contends that our opinion in Texas Department of Public Safety v. Garcia, 327 S.W.3d 898 (Tex.App.-Austin 2010, pet. denied), compels such a conclusion. Based on Garcia, the DPS asserts that we must always consider the underlying conduct in determining whether the elements of another state's statute are substantially similar to the elements of a reportable SORA offense if conduct that constitutes a violation of the greater offense could satisfy the elements of the lesser offense. Consequently, on appeal, the DPS asserts that the trial court erred in excluding the police report with the victim's statement, which is the only evidence the DPS has concerning the appellee's alleged conduct. In the alternative, the DPS maintains that the substantial similarity requirement is satisfied in this case even without considering the excluded police report or the alleged circumstances underlying the appellee's Massachusetts conviction.

Contrary to the DPS's assertion, we do not read Garcia to require consideration of the individual facts and circumstances of the appellee's conviction in determining whether he is required to report as a sex offender in Texas. In Garcia we considered whether the elements of Oregon's statutory-rape statute were substantially similar to the elements of the Texas statutory-rape statute. Id. at 903–06. We concluded that, objectively, the elements of the two statutes were substantially similar. See id. at 904–05. However, the Oregon statute was broader and criminalized sexual intercourse with a child under the age of 18 whereas the Texas statute only criminalized such conduct with a child under the age of 17. Id. Therefore, although the elements of the two statutes were substantially *535 similar, some conduct criminalized under the Oregon statute would not be illegal in Texas. Id. at 906. We held that, in such circumstances, the elements of the Texas statute and the foreign statute must first be compared to determine whether they are objectively substantially similar. Id. If they are, but if the foreign statute also criminalizes behavior that is not illegal in Texas, “the [DPS] must review the conduct underlying the foreign conviction to determine if that conduct is, in fact, within the scope of the Texas offense.” Id. In so holding, we opined that the legislature could not have intended to require lifetime registration as a sex offender for conduct that does not constitute criminal behavior in this state. Id. We concluded that it was necessary to review the conduct underlying Garcia's Oregon conviction because “the Oregon statute covers some activity—sexual conduct with persons aged 17—not encompassed in the Texas offense.” Id. Applying this standard, we concluded that Garcia's conviction was not reportable or registerable under SORA because it was undisputed that he had engaged in consensual sexual conduct with his 17-year-old girlfriend. Id. at 906–07.

Although we considered the individual facts and circumstances underlying the foreign conviction in Garcia, we did so only after determining that the elements of the two statutes were objectively substantially similar, although not identical. This, we believe, is required by SORA's plain language, which emphasizes a comparison of statutory elements rather than individual conduct by defining a “reportable conviction” to include “a violation of the laws of another state ... for or based on the violation of an offense containing elements that are substantially similar to the elements of [reportable Texas offenses].” Tex.Code Crim. Proc. Ann. art. 62.001(5)(H) (emphases added); cf. Prudholm v. State, 333 S.W.3d 590, 592 n. 9 (Tex.Crim.App.2011) (comparing similarly worded sentencing-enhancement provision to language of statutes of other states that focus on underlying conduct). In some cases, however, the purposes of the sex-offender-registration requirement are not served by a strict application of an elements-based approach. Garcia presented such a case. See Garcia, 327 S.W.3d at 906 (observing that legislature could not have intended sex-offender status to be placed on conduct not criminalized under Texas law). While there may be other cases where the two-pronged analysis applied in Garcia is essential, such cases may be relatively rare, and our examination of the statutes at issue in the present case indicates that this is not one of them. Even though the breadth of some language in Garcia could be construed to support the DPS's interpretation of the case, the actual analysis employed in Garcia is consistent with our interpretation of SORA as requiring that, except in unusual cases, the elements of the relevant offenses be compared for substantial similarity without regard to individual facts and circumstances. Cf. id. at 905–06 (“[W]e do not believe that such an inquiry is called for in all cases involving a conviction under [the Oregon statute].”). In accordance with our construction of SORA and Garcia, we proceed to the threshold inquiry in this case of whether the elements of the statutes at issue are substantially similar.

[3] For a foreign statute to be substantially similar to a reportable SORA offense, “the elements being compared ... must display a high degree of likeness, but may be less than identical.” Prudholm, 333 S.W.3d at 594 (establishing standard for determining whether statutes are “substantially similar” under identical wording in sentencing enhancement provision); see also Ex parte Warren, 353 S.W.3d 490, 496 (Tex.Crim.App.2011) (applying Prudholm *536 to “substantially similar” inquiry under SORA); Brown v. State, No. 05–10–00162–CR, 2012 WL 1021444, at *2 (Tex.App.-Dallas Mar. 28, 2012) (mem. op., not designated for publication) (citing Warren and Prudholm for standard of determining substantial similarity of statutes under SORA). The “high degree of likeness” required “must involve more than similarity in merely ‘a general sense.’ ” In addition, “ ‘the elements must be substantially similar with respect to the individual or public interests protected and impact of the elements on the seriousness of the offenses.’ ” Ex parte Warren, 353 S.W.3d at 490 (quoting Prudholm, 333 S.W.3d at 596). Whether or not the statutes are substantially similar is a question of law. Brown, 2012 WL 1021444, at *2; cf. Ex parte Warren, 353 S.W.3d at 496–98 (conducting de novo determination of substantial similarity between elements of foreign and domestic criminal statutes). Turning to the statutes at issue in this case, the DPS devotes most of its argument to the similarity between the Massachusetts indecent assault and battery statute and section 22.011 of the Texas Penal Code—the sexual assault statute. We therefore begin our analysis with a comparison of the elements of those crimes.

At the time appellee was convicted, the Massachusetts offense of indecent assault and battery on a person fourteen or older provided:

Whoever commits an indecent assault and battery on a person who has attained age fourteen shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or by imprisonment for not more than two and one-half years in a jail or house of correction.

Mass. Gen. Laws Ann. ch. 265, § 13H. Although the punishment for this crime is prescribed by statute, the elements necessary to convict a person of the crime are predominantly supplied by common law:

[A]n indecent assault and battery is essentially an act or series of acts [that] are fundamentally offensive to contemporary moral values ... [I]t is behavior [that] the common sense of society would regard as immodest, immoral and improper ... Thus, in order to prove indecent assault and battery, the Commonwealth must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant committed an intentional, unprivileged and indecent touching of the victim. It has been held that the intentional, unjustified touching of private areas such as the breasts, abdomen, buttocks, thighs, and pubic area of a female constitutes an indecent assault and battery.

Commonwealth v. Mosby, 30 Mass.App.Ct. 181, 567 N.E.2d 939, 941 (1991) (citations and quotations omitted) (second alteration in original). However, “[t]he touching in question need not be restricted to the list of anatomical parts and areas referred to in [Mosby].” Commonwealth v. Vazquez, 65 Mass.App.Ct. 305, 839 N.E.2d 343, 346 (2005) (citing Mosby, 567 N.E.2d at 941). Indeed, under Massachusetts law, the mouth and its interior are considered to be an intimate part of the body, such that unwanted kissing, with or without attempted insertion of the tongue, when coupled with improper sexual overtones, can be fundamentally offensive to contemporary moral values. Cf. id. (considering conviction for indecent assault and battery of child under age 14, Mass. Gen. Law. Ann. ch. 265, § 13B); cf. also Commonwealth v. Rosa, 62 Mass.App.Ct. 622, 818 N.E.2d 621, 624 (2004) (same).

The “intent” element requires a showing that the defendant had a conscious purpose to touch the complainant indecently or offensively without her consent. *537 Commonwealth v. Marzilli, 457 Mass. 64, 927 N.E.2d 993, 996 (2010). However, “specific intent” is not required; intent is satisfied by “ ‘the general criminal intent to do that which the law prohibits.’ ” Cf. Commonwealth v. Ford, 424 Mass. 709, 677 N.E.2d 1149, 1152 (1997) (holding that assault and battery is general intent crime); Commonwealth v. Egerton, 396 Mass. 499, 487 N.E.2d 481, 485 (1986) (interpreting similar indecent assault and battery statute for victims under 14 years of age, Mass. Gen. Law. Ann. ch. 265, § 13B) (quoting J.R. NOLAN, CRIMINAL LAW § 234 (1976)). Although lack of consent is an element of the indecent assault and battery crime, force and violence are not. Commonwealth v. De La Cruz, 15 Mass.App.Ct. 52, 443 N.E.2d 427, 432 (1982). Consent generally means “agreement, approval, or permission as to some act or purpose, [especially] given voluntarily by a competent person.” Black’s Law Dictionary 346 (9th ed.2009); cf. Commonwealth v. Fappiano, No. 99–P–914, 57 Mass.App.Ct. 1105, 2003 WL 145457, at *6 n. 15 (Mass.App.Ct. Jan. 21, 2003) (indicating that meaning of “consent” generally includes conduct that is permitted, authorized, or made possible).

The relevant elements of the Texas offense of sexual assault, on the other hand, are set forth in penal code section 22.011, as follows:

- (1) intentionally or knowingly, and
- (2) without the victim's consent;
- (3) a person either causes the penetration of (i) the anus or female sexual organ of another person who is not the spouse of the actor by any means, or (ii) of the mouth of another person who is not the spouse of the actor by the sexual organ of the actor; or
- (4) causes contact or penetration by the sexual organ of the victim to the mouth, anus, or sexual organ of another person, including the actor.

Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011(a)(1).³ The prohibited conduct is “without consent” under section 22.011(a)(1) if it is accomplished by force or violence, threat of force or violence, deception, knowledge of the victim's lack of capacity to consent, or procurement of the victim's lack of capacity to consent.⁴ See id.

538 Applying the standards set forth in Warren and Prudholm, we conclude that the elements of the Massachusetts indecency offense are not substantially similar to the elements of the Texas offense of sexual assault. Comparison of the elements does not reveal “a high degree of likeness.” Although both crimes encompass intentional behavior, the nature of the sexual conduct criminalized under the two statutes is markedly different. The “indecent touching” of clothed or unclothed parts of the anatomy encompassed by the Massachusetts statute differs significantly from the “contact or penetration” of a person's “anus” or “sexual organ” required under section 22.011(a)(1). See also Commonwealth v. Lavigne, 42 Mass.App.Ct. 313, 676 N.E.2d 1170, 1172–73 (1997) (“The ‘inner thigh’ is, under our contemporary views of personal integrity and privacy—whether clothed or unclothed—a body part that our law views as requiring protection from improper touching.”); Mosby, 567 N.E.2d at 942 (evidence that defendant placed his hand on complainant's clothed buttocks without her consent along with proposal with “distinctly sexual overtones” warranted finding that defendant committed indecent assault and battery).

In addition, the statutes lack substantial similarity with respect to the individual and public interests protected and the impact of the elements on the seriousness of the offenses. See Prudholm, 333 S.W.3d at 594. “Section 13H (indecent assault and battery on a person over the age of fourteen) is designed to protect against, and punish, unwanted, indecent touching.” Commonwealth v. Oliveira, 53 Mass.App.Ct. 480, 487, 760 N.E.2d 308 (2002) (distinguishing purposes of indecent assault and battery and assault with intent-to-rape statute). In contrast, the Texas sexual assault statute protects against “the severe physical and psychological trauma of rape.” Prudholm, 333 S.W.3d at 599. Thus, the statutes have notably distinct purposes.

With respect to the impact of the statutes' elements on the seriousness of the offenses, the differences between the type of contact required by the two statutes results in a significant difference in the authorized range of punishment. Both crimes are felonies, but the maximum sentences that can be imposed vary dramatically. See Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 22.011(f) (making sexual assault a second-degree felony); Mass. Gen. Laws Ann. ch. 274, § 1 (“A crime punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison is a felony. All other crimes are misdemeanors.”). The Massachusetts statute prescribes punishment not to exceed five years in state prison or two and one-half years in a jail or house of correction. Mass. Gen. Laws Ann. ch. 265, § 13H. In contrast, a violation of the Texas statute requires a minimum sentence of two years up to a maximum of twenty years. Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 12.33 (West 2011) (prescribing second degree felony punishment of imprisonment “of not more than 20 years or less than 2 years” plus fine up to $10,000); id. § 22.011(f). The disparate levels of incarceration authorized under the statutes further indicates a lack of substantial similarity in the seriousness of the two offenses. The collateral consequences of these violations under each state's sex-offender registration laws also demonstrate the difference in severity of the crimes. Although violations of both statutes require registration as a sex offender under each state's laws, a Texas sexual assault conviction requires lifetime registration and reporting while registration and reporting for the Massachusetts indecency crime is twenty years. Compare Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 62.101(a) with Mass. Gen. Laws Ann. ch. 6, § 178C, D, F, G.

539 The remaining Texas statutes on which the DPS relies require little discussion because they have specific-intent elements that have no corollary in the Massachusetts indecent assault statute. Among other significant dissimilarities—including the nature of sexual contact required and the affirmative defenses provided—indecent with a child under section 21.11 of the penal code requires specific intent to arouse or gratify the sexual desires of any person. See Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 21.11 (providing elements of crime, affirmative defenses, and definition for “sexual contact”). The Massachusetts indecent assault and battery statute is not a specific intent statute and does not require intent to arouse or gratify. Cf. Egerton, 487 N.E.2d at 485 (Mass.1986); Commonwealth v. Conefrey, 37 Mass.App.Ct. 290, 640 N.E.2d 116, 122–23 (1994) (similar indecent assault and battery statute for victims under age 14 is not specific intent crime), rev'd on other grounds, 420 Mass. 508, 650 N.E.2d 1268, 1269 n. 3 (1995); cf. also Ford, 677 N.E.2d at 1152 (Mass.1997) (holding that assault and battery is general intent crime). The elements of this statute bear little resemblance to the elements of the Massachusetts statute, let alone a “high degree of likeness.”

Nor are the elements of criminal attempt substantially similar to the Massachusetts indecent assault and battery statute. Under Texas law, “[a] person commits an offense [of criminal attempt] if, with specific intent to commit [a particular] offense, he does an act amounting to more than mere preparation that tends but fails to effect the commission of the offense intended.” Tex. Penal Code Ann. § 15.01. The DPS contends that “[i]ntentional and unprivileged [sic] touching of ‘the breasts, abdomen, buttocks, thighs, and pubic area of a female’ ” can be considered “more than mere preparation” for purposes of the attempt statute. However, the DPS wholly ignores the specific intent element of section 15.01, which is essential to a conviction under the Texas statute but is neither an element of the Massachusetts indecent assault and battery crime nor substantially similar to any elements of that crime.

In accordance with the foregoing analysis, we conclude that the elements of the Massachusetts offense of indecent assault and battery on a person over fourteen years of age are not substantially similar to the elements of the Texas offenses of sexual assault, indecency with a child, attempted sexual assault, and attempted indecency with a child. We therefore overrule the DPS’s second issue. Our disposition of this issue makes it unnecessary for us to consider the DPS’s first issue regarding exclusion of the police report.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated, we affirm the trial court’s

I concur in the majority’s judgment. For substantially the same reasons identified in the majority’s opinion, I agree that the elements of the Massachusetts offense of indecent assault and battery on a person over fourteen years of age are not substantially similar to the elements of the Texas offense of sexual assault.

I do not agree, however, with the majority’s conclusion that the Sex Offender Registration Act (SORA)¹ allows consideration of the “facts and circumstances” underlying *540 out-of-state criminal convictions in certain “unusual cases.” While I recognize that this Court’s opinion in Texas Department of Public Safety v. Garcia² expanded SORA’s inquiry to look into the conduct underlying the out-of-state conviction, I find no support for that expansion in SORA’s text. The plain language of SORA confines the inquiry to whether the elements of the out-of-state offense are “substantially similar” to the elements of a SORA offense.³ In that respect, I would have decided Garcia differently.

Accordingly, I join in the judgment and, with these qualifications, the majority’s opinion.⁴
